

RUSSIANS WALK OUT ON UNO COUNCIL

REUTHER WINS
AS PRESIDENT OF UAW UNIONFIGHTS AND MELEES
MARK ELECTION AT ATLANTIC CITY

BY FELIX B. WOLD

Atlantic City, March 27 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther was elected president of the United Auto Workers (CIO) by a majority of 125 votes over R. J. Thomas, the incumbent, at a boisterous climax of the union's convention today.

The official vote, announced by Reuther, was:

Reuther 4,445; Thomas 4,320.

Reuther assumed the presidency of the gigantic union immediately after being elected over the man who had been its head for more than seven years.

Sixty-five of the 2,000 delegates failed to vote, Reuther said.

Bedlam Starts

Fights and melees among the delegates occurred during the balloting. Reuther's election was announced formally by Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes, who presided over the roll call, but the official figures were not available until tonight.

As Addes made it known that a new president had been elected the delegates set up a bedlam. A moment later Reuther and Thomas shook hands.

Reuther had rushed across the stage to his rival, offering his hand.

"It was a good race," said Thomas, tears in his eyes.

"We'll work together, Tommy," replied Reuther, nodding his red head vigorously.

Wellwishers crowded around Reuther, pumping his hand and slapping his back.

The decision climaxed a battle in which Reuther and Thomas frequently had resorted to personalities and now and then to invective.

Support Pledged Murray

In losing, Thomas relinquished his seat at the head of the union which he had held for six years from the time the Auto Workers had reorganized under the CIO and set out to become a foremost influence in American labor.

Reuther, in a speech acknowledging his victory, said:

"Let the capitalists and anti-labor forces realize that we may disagree in convention but when we leave here we leave as a united organization to fight the common fight."

The UAW-CIO's newly elected leader, who took office immediately and will preside during the rest of the convention, said as long as he was president the auto union would be a "source of strength for Philip Murray and the CIO."

In the bitter pre-election fight the young leader of the General Motors strike was attacked for his "attitude" toward Murray. On one occasion Thomas said Reuther was "really running" for the CIO presidency.

"I want to take my place by the side of Philip Murray," Reuther said today, "and carry part of the burden he has had to carry as president of the CIO."

Grappling Begins

Reuther also pledged his cooperation to UAW Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes, who supported Thomas in the union's political battle.

"I extend my hand to him and together we can unite this union again," Reuther said.

Twice this afternoon in the course of the hours-long roll call melees broke out.

Army Gripes Inquiry
To Be Held In Secret

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Secret hearings into complaints about the army's alleged "caste system" were decided upon today, as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took the position that "certain reforms" were in order.

Eisenhower, army chief of staff, asserted that distinctions of rank "must never imply or condone any assumption of human superiority."

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, chairman of a six-man board named to inquire into the GI gripes announced that the hearings opening tomorrow would be behind closed doors. He told reporters the board felt that witnesses would speak more freely that way than if the sessions were public.

The witnesses have full consent from the army's highest brass to unload their chests. The inquiry was ordered by Secretary of War Patterson and Eisenhower, who acknowledged that there were "definite grounds for the type of complaint" that the board would explore.

Eisenhower's comment was contained in a letter to Rep. Francis Case (R-S. D.), which the congressman made public today. Case had forwarded to the chief of staff a letter from Earl A. Hausle, an enlisted man stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. Case said that he also had heard other enlisted men's complaints about the "caste" system.

"While we must make some distinction based upon professional attainment and upon weight of responsibility," Eisenhower wrote Case, "these distinctions must never imply nor condone any assumption of human superiority, which is not only unamerican and unethical, but is ineffective in defense."

MENOMINEE GI
CLAIMS BRIDEEnglish Girl Arrives To Wed Disabled Fiance
After Long Wait

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—Sgt. George Nason, of Menominee, Mich., glowing cheerfully in his demob suit, was married today to Barbara Reeve, 24, the girl he met over a cup of tea at a lunch counter of a London railroad station.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Jens J. Vander Grass, Army chaplain from Maywood, Ill., in the chapel of Vaughan General hospital where Nason is a patient. He is paralyzed from the waist down, the result of a machine gun bullet in France.

Miss Reeve of 8 St. Ann's crescent, London SW 18, was attended by Dawn Newberger, of Chicago, a Red Cross girl at the hospital. The bride is the daughter of Harry Reeve and prior to coming to this country was a demonstrator of accounting machines for the National Cash Register Company.

She flew from England Sunday night and through the Red Cross was met at the airport by her fiancé.

The bride was given away by C. P. Madison Thomas, ward medical officer from Battle Creek, Mich. Best man was T. J. Clyde Lucas, of Detroit, Mich., also paralyzed from the waist down. He was injured in Germany with the 102nd Infantry division.

Following a reception in the hospital ward, attended by the ward's 24 patients, the couple left for their honeymoon in a Chicago hotel.

STRIKE TRUCE
IN IRON MINESOPERATORS REFUSE TO LIFT COURT INJUNCTION

Ishpeming, Mich., March 27 (AP)—The three major mining companies on the Marquette Range today notified Conciliator Robert E. Lomasney, Detroit, member of the State Labor Mediation Board, they would not at this time lift circuit court injunctions obtained a week ago to prevent interference in mining operations by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO).

Early this evening, Lomasney, after two-day attempts to effect a truce to permit conciliation in an effort to settle the 48-day-old mining strike, declared:

"We are receiving no cooperation from the companies."

Circuit court injunctions were obtained by the Inland Steel Company, Athens Iron Mining Company, Negaunee Mining Company, North Range Mining Company and Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company after alleged threats by the steelworkers to halt necessary maintenance work at the 13 active properties owned by those concerns.

Work At Standstill

Lomasney has been seeking to have the injunctions lifted during a union-company conference, the union telling him it would guarantee continuance of maintenance and call a halt to mass picketing demonstrations staged at several mines since last Friday in return to lifting the injunctions.

Except for picketing of the Blueberry Mine by about 100 men today, there were no mass demonstrations. Operations were virtually halted at all properties where work had been resumed last Thursday and Friday on the companies' invitation to go back to work at 10 cents an hour pay increase. The union demands 18 1/2 cents an hour boost.

The companies stated their positions in the situation in the following statements:

Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company: "While we are not willing, but desirous of bargaining with the union on any subject proper for collective bargaining, under present circumstances we cannot agree to dismiss or suspend the injunctions."

Inland Steel Company: "In our opinion circumstances at this time do not warrant such action."

North Range officials said they take the same position.

Smiling Ed Bosses
Smallest Village
In State, Lake Ann

Traverse City, March 27 (AP)—The smallest incorporated village in the state, Lake Ann, a few miles southeast of here, has settled down to routine living under a new administration.

The village recently held its first election in many years and 34 voters marched to the polls.

"Smiling" Ed Williams was chosen village president, running on a platform of "a goose in every field and dust on all of the streets."

This week, President Ed announced that the ducks are already on hand, arriving the day after election. The only drawback is the fact that they are "fishy" and already "Smiling" Ed's constituents are dissatisfied.

In 1893, Lake Ann was a robust lumbering town with a railroad, saloons and all the conveniences of the law. Timber disappeared and Lake Ann saw bad days. Now, there is revival. Land prices are booming since Lake Ann became a resort area.

Hoarding Of Beer
To Cause Shortage,
Drinkers Warned

Lansing, March 27 (AP)—Hoarders will create not only a shortage of beer, but shortage of bottles and cases which will mean even less beer, the state liquor control commission said today.

The commission warned that beer-drinkers who hope to beat the shortage by storing a summer's supply would find that the beer was not "fit to drink" unless it is kept properly refrigerated. Ordinary basement storage is out because temperature changes will ruin the product.

ARMY LACKS HOUSING

Tokyo, March 27 (AP)—Supreme headquarters said today a critical housing shortage had delayed until July 1 plans to permit wives and families of U. S. occupation forces in Southern Korea to enter the American zone.

Four Get Into GOP
Race For Governor;
Four More Boomed

BY JACK I. GREEN

Lansing, March 27 (AP)—With four Republican candidates committed to the race for governor and at least four other possibilities the G. O. P. has prospects of its largest primary fight in 14 years.

The developments which raised that prospect were the promise of Raymond J. Kelly, former national commander of the American Legion, that he was in the gubernatorial contest for keeps and an attempt to draft Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, former attorney general, for the campaign.

The four asserted certainties in the contest are Lt. Gov. Vernon J. Brown; Kim Sigler, former special prosecutor of the Ingham county grand jury; Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, of Detroit, and Kelly.

Politicians here who know Rushton well declare they doubt he will yield to the draft move, but they think he might be agreeable to keeping some other candidates on tenderhooks for a while. Rushton has declined to say definitely to newsmen that he won't run.

An entry by Rushton would give the G. O. P. its biggest gubernatorial contest in the primary since 1932 when there were five candidates also.

A campaign by a sixth candidate would send the record number back to 1924 when Alex J. Groesbeck was first in a field of seven in his last successful campaign for governor.

Others mentioned for the contest include Senator George Gribbach, of Sault Ste. Marie; Orrin A. De Mass, of Detroit, former chairman of the state liquor control commission, and Louis C. Miriani, of Detroit, member of the state welfare commission.

The politicians decline to consider the size of the field until the deadline for filing nominating petitions April 23.

The week also saw the list of Republican hopefuls in the lieutenant governor race reduced. When Senators James T. Milliken, Traverse City, and Don Vanderworp, Fremont, announced they would seek reelection to the senate they left in the contest for the No. 2 place on the ballot the following:

Col. Owen J. Cleary, of Ypsilanti; Senator George N. Higgins, of Ferndale; Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, of Dearborn, former lieutenant governor; John A. MacLellan, Welfare League; Howard Nugent, of Bad Axe, speaker of the house of representatives, and Thomas Read, former attorney general and lieutenant governor.

Meanwhile, the Democrats waited anxiously for word from former Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner as to whether he would yield to strong party pressure to seek another term as governor.

George D. Schermerhorn, Reading manufacturer, and William J. Cody, Wayne county circuit court commissioner, have announced already in that contest, and Theodore I. (Phil) Fry, member of the liquor commission and former state treasurer, is mentioned as a candidate if Van Wagoner declines to run.

Earlier plans for holding the preliminary hearing today were changed when the consul general asked for legal counsel for the Soviet officer charged with inducing another to seek information on U. S. S. Yellowstone, for the benefit of a foreign power.

Redin was arrested here last night on a warrant from Seattle as he prepared to board the floating cannery, S. S. Alma Ata.

Earlier today the blue-uniformed Soviet officer deserted his non-committal demeanor long enough to deny that he was preparing to flee when arrested.

The U. S. marshal said the itemized list of articles Redin carried, turned over by the FBI, contained no plans or information—only personal effects.

Still shrouded in FBI secrecy are all details concerning the person who the charge states obtained "plans, document and writings" about the Yellowstone, on Dec. 22, at the inducement of Redin. The Yellowstone, said to be virtually a "floating shipyard" capable of all types of repairs, is in Puget Sound.

China Accepts Red
Army Plans To Get Out Of Manchuria

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, March 27 (AP)—China has accepted Soviet plans to quit Manchuria by April 30, but has suspended discussions over economic cooperation, it was announced today.

Liu Chieh, vice-minister of foreign affairs, disclosed that Sino-Russian economic negotiations in Manchuria were halted in mid-February.

Asked at a news conference if the talks would be resumed after the Red army quits Manchuria, Liu replied: "no statement."

Liu said the Chinese-Russian situation had "eased," but refused to "make any categorical statement" that a "crisis" was over. He added: "No one can say now that the situation is on a very sound basis."

Convicted Hooper
Murder Plotters
Apply For Appeals

Lansing, March 27 (AP)—A petition for leave to appeal to the state supreme court was filed with the court today by R. G. Leitch of Battle Creek, counsel for four Detroit men convicted last summer of conspiracy to murder the late Senator Warren G. Hooper, of Albion.

The defendants requesting permission to appeal are Harry Fleisher, described by Detroit police as a one-time Purple gang leader; his brother, Sam; Mike Seklik, also described by police as a member of the Purple gang, and Pete Mahoney.

WALKS OUT ON UNO—Soviet ambassador Andrei Gromyko, above, walked out of the United Nations security council Wednesday after it rejected his motion to postpone a hearing on Iran's complaint of Russian meddling until April 10. Shortly afterward the council voted to invite a statement from Iran.

The world peace agency soon afterward heard Iran's ambassador term the situation in his homeland "explosive."

The council adjourned at 6:46 p. m., E. S. T., until tomorrow when members will sit as a committee in an executive session scheduled for 4 p. m.

A spokesman for the Soviet delegation said tonight, however, that the Russians would attend tomorrow's session—from which the press and public will be barred—thus indicating strongly that Russia intended to continue participation, even if limited, in the council's discussions.

Business As Usual

The spokesman said this decision was due to the fact they understood tomorrow's meeting would be procedural and not touch on the Iranian situation.

No open meeting of the council as such is expected until Friday, a member said.

The peace-enforcement body defeated Russia's proposal to postpone the Russian-Iranian case until after April 10 and then, when the Soviet delegation picked up its papers and departed, continued business as usual.

There was no hint from the Russians as to how long they would absent themselves, but it was recalled that the Soviet delegate, Andrei A. Gromyko, had warned that he could not participate in any discussion of the substance of the Iranian case before April 10. However, the Polish delegate said later at a press conference that Russia had not withdrawn from the council.

There were some indications that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, who had insisted on action today on the Iranian case, might call for further consideration of the question of postponement after hearing the Iranian delegate.

Evacuation Refused

Ala. in his talk to the council, said he knew of no agreement between Iran and Russia; that Russia had told Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam that some Russian troops would remain in Iran indefinitely, and that Russia had demanded favorable consideration in forming an oil company.

The Iranian told the council that his premier, Ahmed Qavam, on his mission to Moscow in February had requested the Russians to withdraw their troops "without delay."

The Russians, he continued, refused "to withdraw their troops from Iran or to refrain from interfering in the internal affairs of Iran."

It was after two hours of heated discussion that the Russian proposal to postpone the case until April 10 came to a vote. Only Russia and Poland voted for the motion and no negative vote was taken.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate who had announced yesterday that he was not prepared to enter any discussion of the substance of the Iranian case before April 10, sat calmly in his seat at the end of the table as the council

Vardaman Approved For Federal Post

Washington, March 27 (AP)—Commodore James K. Vardaman, Jr., won recommendation of the Senate Banking Committee today for a 14-year term on the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.), who piloted the nomination through a special closed session of the banking committee in mid-afternoon, said he would ask senate confirmation, probably tomorrow. He predicted it would be given "without trouble."

Administration men said a private poll showed more than enough votes. The nomination of the 52-year-old gray-haired White House naval aide and civilian lawyer-finance man was sent to the senate more than two months ago on January 23.

In Cottage Blaze

Adrian, Mich., March 27 (AP)—Mrs. Irma Harvey, a 60-year-old widow, burned to death today in a fire which destroyed her two-story frame cottage at Devil's Lake.

A neighbor told of seeing Mrs. Harvey at an upstairs window as smoke poured out. Firemen tried to rescue her but the upstairs was cut off by flames. Coroner Ed Braun of Adrian termed the death accidental.

Old-Timers Night Brings Out 25 Veterans; Class Of 26 Initiated

Twenty-six new members were added to the roster of Escanaba lodge 354, B. P. O. Elks last night at a meeting dedicated to the "old-timers" of the lodge, 25 of whom were present for the ceremonies.

The session also featured the election of new officers of the local organization who will serve for the ensuing year. They are: Exalted ruler, Hazen Hengesh; leading knight, Robert Lemire; loyal knight, Ed Hengesh; lecturing knight, Kirby Treiber; secretary, W. Jess Lavette; treasurer, Ed Moersch; new trustees, past exalted ruler N. T. Stephenson, Grover Lewis, Mike Walsh.

The meeting opened with a 6:30 banquet, during which the old-timers were introduced, and Bob Pryal, a member since 1919, obliged with some of his famed humorous anecdotes.

A buffet lunch was served after the initiation and election.

turned to an Egyptian proposal to have the Iranian delegate make his statement.

Hussein Ala told the council his government considers it necessary to press its case "at the earliest possible moment" and that he had no agreement "secret or otherwise" between his country and Russia.

Gromyko sat quietly while the French delegate, Henri Bonnet, arose to speak on the Egyptian motion. After Bonnet concluded, Gromyko stood up in his place at the end of the council table. He gained recognition of the chair and then slowly stated in Russian that as a representative of the Soviet government he could no longer participate in the meeting. "I am, therefore, leave the meeting," he said.

He waited until his remarks had been translated into French and then English, and then he arose, jerked off his shell-rimmed spectacles and walked with his delegation to the back of the chamber and then to the delegates' door.

Hussein Ala smiled as the Russians walked from the chamber, defeated in their constant battle to keep the case from the council until at least April 10.

Tehran, March 27. (AP)—Evacuation of Kazvin, key rail point 80 miles northwest of Tehran, should be completed by the Russians "within three or four days," an Iranian government official said today, while travelers reported columns of Soviet troops and equipment heading northwest from Kazvin toward the Caspian Sea.

Drivers of the Levant motorized express who have just returned from the Kazvin area said the Russians had set up principal evacuation points at Resht and Pahlevi on the Caspian Sea, 70 and 80 miles northwest of Kazvin.

The drivers reported that a large Russian camp at Takistan, 25 miles northwest of Kazvin, already was virtually evacuated.

Official British, American and Iranian sources said no reports had been received officially that any Russian troops had actually been pulled back across Iran's borders, or that there had been any movement north from Kazvin.

Reliable reports from Tebriz, capital of the self-proclaimed autonomous state of Iranian Azerbaijan, said there was no indication of preparation thus far for Soviet evacuation of the northwestern province.

Stars And Stripes Fight With General

BY JOSEPH ROSAPEPE

Rome, March 27. (AP)—All staff members of the Mediterranean edition of Stars and Stripes asked today for resignation after Maj. Hal C. Kestler, officer in charge of the army newspaper, was relieved from duty by Lt. Gen. John C. J. Lee, Mediterranean theater commander.

There has been disagreement for six weeks between the newspaper's staff and Lee over censorship of a letter to the editor column.

Kestler, from Waucoma, Iowa, said he had asked for an army court of inquiry to investigate his administration, and that three officers and 51 enlisted men on the paper had sought transfers.

A statement by the paper's staff said it was felt that Kestler was "dismissed as a direct result of the stout defense he made of his journalistic beliefs," and that "since we share those beliefs, we feel that we should not be asked to remain on our jobs."

Kestler told newsmen that since Lee became theater commander three months ago, "the operation of the newspaper had grown increasingly difficult."

Behind Russia's Curtain

"Two Titos" Rule in Yugoslavia and Albania

Editor's Note—This is the last of six dispatches dealing with the men "Behind Russia's Iran Curtain," written for NEA Service by a veteran foreign correspondent.

BY JOACHIM JOESTEN

NEA Special Correspondent

New York, (NEA)—In the southwestern marches of the Soviet Empire, bordering on the Adriatic Sea, the "Two Titos" rule supreme: Josip Broz of Yugoslavia, and Enver Hoxha of Albania. Although the personalities of these two men differ a great deal, their rise to power has followed such similar lines, and they are now so closely allied, that they may well be treated as one.

All the world knows the story of the Yugoslav Partisan leader, Marshal Tito. But a few remarks may be of interest, in order to bring his story up to date, and to set him off from his fellow-rulers in the Soviet orbit.

Tito is the only manual worker, and the only Moscow-trained Communist among Stalin's vice-presidents. The son of a Croat farmer, he was born near Zagreb in 1892 where he became a metal worker and one of the earliest organizers of the Yugoslav trade union movement. He spent many years in Moscow, imbibing the orthodox Marxist faith, and many more years in jail for trying to apply at home what he had learned.

Like most of the leaders portrayed in this series, he is a man of medium height and sturdy build, with a determined, expressive face.

Tito today is the most powerful man in the Soviet orbit. His position is virtually impregnable and is likely to remain so as long as the present great power balance persists.

King Peter Dethroned

He reached the apex of his power when the Yugoslav Constituent Assembly, on November 29, 1945, formally dethroned King Peter and proclaimed a "Federal People's Republic."

Not president has been elected yet, but on Feb. 1-3, 1946, Tito was invested by the Assembly with almost unlimited powers as Premier, Minister of Defense, and Supreme Commander of the armed forces. His position now closely resembles that of Stalin in Russia.

Far less well-known abroad is Tito's "little brother," Col. Gen. Enver Hoxha of Albania. He, too, rode to power as leader of a Partisan army, battling its way to national freedom against Germans, Italians, and collaborationists, in the final phase of the war.

Hoxha is a striking personality. He is the youngest (37), tallest (6 feet), and heaviest (180 pounds) of Stalin's viceroys.

He is also, by a long shot, the darkest-skinned, athletic young man. As self-appointed Colonel General, and Commander-in-Chief of the Albanian Army, he is smartly attired in a Russia-style khaki uniform, with six stars on his high collar, four ribbons on his chest, and a gold-braided cap on his imposing shock of black hair, which is a little silvery at the temples.

Like Groza and Tildy, Hoxha hails from a much-disputed borderland, the Epirus, which is now being claimed by Greek nationalists.

He was born in 1908 in the most important town in the Albanian portion of Epirus, Gjinakaster (Argyrokastron). His father once had worked as a cotton factory hand in Biddleford, Maine.

After graduating from high school at Korce, South Albania, Hoxha went to study in France on a government fellowship. Before he could complete his university education, however, the funds ran out. He then served for a few years as secretary of the Albanian Consulate in Brussels.

His fluent command of French stood him in good stead when he returned to Albania in 1937 to take a job as professor of French combatants. No one was reported injured.

From time to time heckling interrupted the roll call, which had opened with Reuther getting the initial vote and quickly running up a lead.

The more severe of the disturbances began at a demand from the floor for an individual roll call of the big Local 669 of Wright Aeronautical Corp., at Paterson, N. J. The local had announced its 123 votes in a bloc for Thomas.

Suddenly two men began grappling. In a moment the big ballroom of Municipal Auditorium, convention site, was thrown into confusion. Delegates, among them both men and women, rushed to watch the fight.

When a semblance of order was restored, George F. Addes, secretary-treasurer and presiding officer during the vote, accused an unnamed international representative of the UAW-CIO of starting the trouble, but refused to identify the offender.

Washington, March 27. (AP)—The government today took its second action in a week against meat black markets which officials have termed "pretty serious."

The OPA ordered restoration on April 1 of certain wartime slaughter controls. A spokesman for the agency said they will "drive out of business many fly-by-night newcomers" to the cattle-buying field.

A week ago Stabilization Director Chester Bowles ordered automatic reduction or in some cases forfeiture of cattle subsidies in cases where packers pay more than ceiling prices.

The new OPA regulation is directed against those who engage in so-called custom slaughtering. This occurs, the agency said, when the owner of an animal has it butchered by another person for a fee.

Testimony Of His Own Witness Hard On Von Ribbentrop

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

Nernberg, Mar. 27. (AP)—Joachim von Ribbentrop's own testimony testified today that Hitler's former foreign minister agreed in October, 1943, to gas chamber extermination of Jews trapped in German-occupied lands, and that he did "absolutely nothing" about repeated Vatican protests that priests and nuns were being tortured.

Rocked by the damaging testimony, von Ribbentrop's defense swamped the international military tribunal with a flood of more than 300 pieces of documentary evidence attempting to clear his record in the foreign ministry and to prove, among other things, that Britain, by rearming in 1938, provoked Germany's rearmament.

An army of four divisions, 100,000 men, marching along a single road would form a column sixty miles long.

Ben Ryder and the Wanderlust

During the war, Ben Ryder talked about the trips he'd take when gasoline rationing was ended. Used to pore over roadmaps—checking mileages and charting routes.

Now Ben's taking quite a lot of ribbing. Soon as rationing was lifted, he decided he liked staying home, putting in the garden, playing chess, sharing a pleasant glass of beer with friends.

"Shucks," admits Ben sheepishly, "as soon as you can go, then it's just as good as having gone!"

Cribbage Tourney Opens At Center

The cribbage sessions formerly held on Wednesday nights at the recreation center have been shifted to Thursday nights. Beginning tonight and extending for three successive weekly sessions, a cribbage tournament will be held at the center.

Participants will keep records of their victories in the three sessions and individual awards will be presented to the winner and runner-up. Tally cards will be provided at the center.

All cribbage players are invited and play will be in the downstairs game room at the center.

First Autos Made By Kaiser-Fraser Out This Summer

Detroit, March 27. (AP)—Kaiser-Fraser Corporation's first automobiles are expected to be ready for shipment to dealers for display purposes by midsummer, the company announced today.

In a report to stockholders, the corporation said its first assembly line at the Willow Run plant was 75 per cent completed on March 10.

The report covers the period from incorporation Aug. 9 to Dec. 31, 1945, and shows that net expenses for the period amounted to $772,720. A pro-forma balance sheet which takes into account the sale of common stock on Jan. 23 of this year shows total assets at $54,596,250. Of this total, $46,137,556 represented cash and $8,005,369 U. S. government obligations. Current liabilities amounted to $925,308.

The corporation said that it contemplates that of the funds on hand, approximately $35,000,000 will be expended as follows: For machinery and equipment, $17,000,000; tools, dies, jigs and fixtures, $7,000,000; for machinery, equipment and tools for its Long Beach, Calif., assembly plant, $3,000,000 and for expenses prior to production, $3,000,000.

The company statement said that 3,219 dealers have been awarded franchises to handle the sale and distribution of cars to date.

July 5 Is Favored For GOP Convention

Lansing, March 27. (AP)—Republican State Central Committee Chairman John A. Wagner, of Battle Creek, said today that a majority of the committee appears to be in favor of holding the party's convention in Detroit on July 5.

Wagner said the same sentiment favored holding G. O. P. county conventions June 27.

The central committee will meet here April 3 to fix the dates definitely.

Here's The Answer!

This is in reply to an editorial in last Sunday's Press. Our cab drivers drive an average of 250 miles per day. Our most rushed times is when weather conditions are most adverse, such as storms, rainy and unfavorable walking days. Traffic mishaps in which our cabs were involved, during the past winter, were in all cases caused by the other parties involved. Our police and insurance records will prove this statement. Our regular patrons can verify the fact that we do not run through arterial stops or violate other traffic regulations.

Local Man Fined $50 for Illegal Beaver Trapping

John T. Paylot Jr., 1201½ Ludington street, who pleaded guilty last Monday to a charge of trapping beaver illegally in Menominee county, was fined $50 and costs of $6.00 by Justice of the Peace Albert Sanders Jr., of Stephenson.

Paylot was arrested by a Menominee county conservation officer, Clarence Leinna, last Sunday as he was about to remove a beaver from a trap he had evidently set in a creek in Gurley township.

The ten-day beaver trapping season opens April 1 in the U. P.

The fine was paid here to Justice of the Peace Henry Ranguette through arrangement with Justice Sanders.

Council Candidates Outline Platforms At Citizens Forum Meet

Six of the seven candidates competing for two positions on the city council at the spring election next Monday, April 1, who appeared on the Citizens' Forum held in the city hall council chambers last night are in agreement on one point: all expressed sincere interest in sound, efficient, business-like city government.

One candidate, Ovid J. Provo, 800 Stephenson avenue, did not appear at the session, probably because he is employed at night, it was explained by Roy Overpack, Chamber of Commerce secretary, who served as moderator at the forum and introduced the speakers.

Forum Director Charles Folio invited questions from the audience which half-filled the hall but no discussion followed the meeting.

Coon Speaks First

Commander Marvin L. Coon, in a brief informal talk, expressed regret that he was unable to give a political address or outline his program because of naval regulations, and confined his remarks to a brief summary of his background.

A veteran of both world wars, Commander Coon expects to be released from service in "three or four weeks." He said he was happy to enter the campaign for councilmen upon the request of a number of local business men and veterans. He is a home-owner and taxpayer in Escanaba and has raised his family here. A former warden of Marquette prison and Upper Peninsula manager of the Liquor Control Commission, Commander Coon said he was definitely interested in "a good, clean and better Escanaba."

Candidate John J. Dubord, the second speaker, said he was a life-long resident of Escanaba, an employee of the Bird's Eye Veneer company and a member of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union. Reading a prepared speech, Mr. Dubord emphasized his interest in helping war veterans in every possible way and, if elected, promised to help remedy the housing situation, to work for full recreational facilities in the city and to give full attention to the important needs of both labor and industry.

Vet Third Speaker

Clarence A. Johnson, a World War II veteran, the third speaker on the forum program, lives here at 1303 North 18th street. In his short written address, Mr. Johnson said he has resided in Escanaba all his life—30 years—and returned to his employment here at the Shepley Dimension company after serving in the late war. He is a member of the Carpenters and Joiners Union, A. F. of L., and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (he saw duty in the Italian and European campaigns as a member of the 141st Infantry); he is married and has one son.

Mr. Johnson said he makes no special appeal as a labor man and a veteran but that he would try to fairly represent all groups in the city and that, if elected, he would not seek to use his position to advance any personal interest. The youthful candidate declared that he was deeply interested in a sound, business-like city administration, that he would work for all reasonable aid to veterans. In conclusion he stated that he was ready to answer any questions regarding his views on matters of public local interest.

Klasell Gives Views

"Like the average citizen I am interested in a stable community," Elmer R. Klasell, an employee of the Escanaba Paper company for the past 23 years, said in outlining his platform as a council candidate.

Also a life-long local resident, Mr. Klasell has served in personnel work. He emphasized his belief that business needs labor and that labor needs business; that despite his belief in the charter form of government, "it is having the right men in government that determines its quality."

HAPPY MAN IS FREED FROM HARSH LAXATIVES

Suffers for 25 Years Before Discovering Famous Cereal

Do you suffer from constipation? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I suffered from constipation for 25 years. Then a friend told me about Kellogg's All-Bran. I began eating it every day. Now I have natural bowel movements regularly. ALL-BRAN is wonderful!" William H. Budd, 1821 Cleveland Avenue, Columbus 2, Ohio.

You, too, may never have to take another harsh laxative for constipation due to lack of bulk in your diet—if you eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. If after ten days you are not completely satisfied, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan. You will get double your money back! ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. It's a naturally laxative food providing gentle bulk helpful to normal laxation. Eat All-Bran every day as a delicious cereal—or in muffins.

Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

The fourth speaker declared that the city should have a good return from its public utilities and from liquor taxes and that the inducement of work at good wages was needed to attract new industry. He said he had no personal axe to grind and that he had the ability to say "yes" as well as to say "no" when "no" was the proper answer.

Logan Reviews Record

Escanaba's well known representative on the city council, Peter N. Logan, one of the two incumbents seeking reelection, reviewed accomplishments of the city government in recent years and devoted the remainder of his talk to an outline of the program he said he would work to complete if reelected.

Mr. Logan has been in the employ of the Chicago and North Western railroad for the past 35 years; he is a member of both the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, which he has represented for 17 years, and of the A. F. of L. Carpenters and Joiners Union.

"Government is a corporation," he said, "and the citizens are the stockholders. It should be run as such and the dividends should be declared in the form of lower taxes and lower utility rates."

Mr. Logan cited as one of the main accomplishments in his tenure of office, the reduction of the city's bonded indebtedness from $325,000 to some $80,000 which will be completely wiped out in about six more years; the tax equalization program and other evidence of a progressive program.

The incumbent said that, if reelected, he would continue to work for further reduction of light and power rates; a sensible home building program in Escanaba; year around free garbage collection with the city providing free garbage cans and a service to clean the cans; completion of the beach project and the building of the most modern beach house north of Milwaukee. Mr. Logan said that the war had prevented carrying out much of the program, which had long been planned by the city. He added that he would continue to work for a recreation program for all; for the beautification of the city through reforestation; for the return to the city of one-sixth of the state sales tax revenues (an estimated $35,000); for prompt payment of the city's bonds when due and avoiding future bonded indebtedness.

Whether elected or not, Mr. Logan said he would continue to be interested in good city government and would be interested in seeing the council continue to meet in public in the city hall.

He pledged support in cooperating with all groups that had "something good for the city." He said he hoped that when the tax equalization program was completed it would lower city taxes and that in any case he would fight for what he believed was right for the city, independent of any and all groups, political or otherwise.

Wylie Last Speaker

Henry Wylie, the other incumbent who is completing his first term on the city council, and a well known Escanaba high school instructor, reserve basketball and football and assistant track coach, opened his talk by paying tribute to the late Atty. Torval E. Strom who, he declared, had been a tireless and faithful worker in the interests of good city and county government.

Wylie referred to part of his talk as a "progress report" and summed up the four year war-time accomplishments in city and county government, citing the recent real estate reappraisal as one of the outstanding achievements, with values "readjusted on a sound, scientific basis." He emphasized the importance to the city of the local government's assistance to new industries which have given employment to over 300 citizens. Mr. Wylie said he firmly believed in financial aid ("which does not mean giving away anything") of the kind the city gave in making improvements in the city-owned Steele-Wallace building, which is partly occupied by the Delta Furniture company, the building occupied by the Venus Foundation company, the old brewery, part of which was converted for the establishment of the vocational school and assistance which he said he regarded as investments which pay off in rent and taxes; the profits to the city are in the form of new employment and the salaries and wages that employment brings.

The final forum speaker of the evening added that there have been no increases in tax or utility rates, and that the city's bonded indebtedness had been decreased in the past four years and that substantial investments of surplus city funds had been made in war bonds.

Mr. Wylie said that industrial expansion programs, in which he firmly believes, cost money but must be considered as an investment and that the city should spend more in that way "on a pay-as-you-go basis."

He warned tax-payers not to expect any decrease in utility rates and that there might even be an increase in the cost of city steam due to the planned expansion.

Pension Plan Cited

Mr. Wylie pointed out that other recent accomplishments of the city government included wage increases for city employees as well as putting into effect a pension plan for the municipal workers.

He said that electric, gas and water utilities were all in "good shape" and promised, if reelected, all possible help in the housing program "but the city can't go into the building business."

Mr. Wylie congratulated City Manager A. V. Aronson on the fine job he has done since his appointment, especially during the war years when the city lacked experienced help in many departments. The speaker also gave full credit to other members of the council for the city government's accomplishments of the past four years and predicted, in conclusion, that successful building and industrial programs here would find Escanaba a city of 20,000 population by 1960.

Forum Next Monday

Mr. Folio, forum director, announced at the close of the meeting that Professor Harlow Whitmore, head of the School of Architecture of the University of Michigan, would be the main speaker at the next forum meeting here on Monday evening, April 1, at the city hall. Election results will be announced during the meeting, he said.

Former Menominee Police Chief Gets Highway Position

Menominee—Anton G. Jensen, former Menominee city police chief, yesterday was appointed to the enforcement staff of the Michigan State Highway Department as U. P. weighmaster by Harry T. Ward of Lansing, chief deputy to Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. Ward spent yesterday afternoon in Menominee and announced Jensen's appointment before leaving for Escanaba.

Jensen will leave next Monday for Lansing to take a four weeks' training course in his new duties, after which he will return to the upper peninsula, the territory to which he will be assigned. He will have his headquarters in Menominee and will continue his residence here. His duties will be to enforce state regulations on loads of trucks operating on the highways.

Jensen, a graduate with the class of 1928 at Menominee High school, where he was a star athlete in football, basketball and track, attended Michigan Military Academy which operated for a short time in the early thirties at the present site of Jordan Seminary.

He joined the Menominee police force in 1934, and was promoted to the post of chief upon death of Frank Parsek in 1942. Jensen resigned the chief's post last December 1, but returned to the department as a patrolman, in which capacity he has since served. In 1943 he attended a 14 weeks' course at the National Police Academy in Washington, D. C. Jensen is married and resides at 711 Jenkins street.

Cornell Takes Lead

THE Cornell township schools are the first to indicate their intention of establishing a community forest as a part of the "Trees Forever" program, launched recently by the Escanaba Daily Press.

Quite likely, other schools in Delta and surrounding counties will follow Cornell's lead for a school forest can be a most important medium in public education. Trees, plants, animals, soils and water become textbooks for a school that owns a forest. Home geography, nature study, agriculture, and composition find in the forest ideal material for projects, themes and debates. Names of trees and plants become familiar to the pupil. The life history of a tree from the seedling to maturity is a part of his knowledge.

Study of the actual formation of soil in the forest, the decay of the leaves and the return to dust proves more interesting to the child than any treatise. Reading a compass, running a line making a map, fire protection are only a few of the valuable lessons in forestry that can be learned.

Any school, 4-H club, or civic organization, which desires to establish a community forest, can get started by filling the "Trees Forever" blank that appears from time to time in the Escanaba Daily Press. Any advice or other assistance will be gladly furnished by the Michigan Department of Conservation, U. S. Forest Service, 4-H club leaders and other agencies interested in the reforestation of the region's cut-over and burned-over acres.

Coal Strike Looms

THE impending strike of 400,000 coal miners, scheduled for Monday, represents another in the long series of major strikes that have stifled production and prevented a speedy reconversion to peacetime living in America.

Unfortunately, the threatened coal strike is more serious even than the long drawn out automobile workers walkout and the steel workers strike. Both of these major strikes have been settled but the settlement will mean little if the coal strike is prolonged. The automobile industry, the steel industry and many other important industries will be forced to close again if they are unable to obtain fuel. In addition, the major proportion of American railroads will be affected as well as the gigantic electrical industry.

The truth of the matter is that the nation just cannot afford to permit a prolonged coal strike. Without coal there can be little production and voluminous production is the only weapon that remains to stave off the mounting tide of inflation.

This is one labor dispute in which the public cannot sit back and wait while belligerent union leaders and equally belligerent industrialists growl at each other for unending weeks.

The coal operators and the United Mine Workers had better resolve their differences speedily.

Soviet Hush-Hush

SOVIET Russia diplomats have played effectively in the past on the theme that affairs of the United Nations should be brought out for free and open discussion, and quite appropriately so.

But in the Iranian affair, the Soviet Union has been fighting strenuously to prevent the placing of the Moscow agreement with the Teheran government on the agenda of the UNO security council. It is encouraging to note that Secretary Byrnes is taking a firm stand in favor of permitting Iran to tell its side of the case before the security council.

Goaded by friends of Russia in this country, the United States has leaned over backward in its efforts to reach an understanding in various issues involving the Moscow government. Other allied nations also have been going more than half way to obtain the friendship of Russia.

But at the same time, the Moscow government has committed certain acts, in direct contradiction to its public pronouncements, all of which have aroused suspicion here and abroad. It is time that Russia also do something herself about creating a better understanding between nations. Thus far, the Moscow government has given the general impression that it is merely trying to get all it can for Soviet Russia. It has its own version of "give and take."

Cart Before the Horse

THE CPA order banning non-essential construction in the United States in order to channel scarce materials to new homes for veterans is now in effect. The first broad action in the national housing program has been taken.

While the CPA order should be an influential factor in providing materials for low cost homes, the program still is not broad enough for it has failed to control the alarming flow of lumber and other building supplies to foreign markets. In

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Now and then a literary friend looks over my shoulder during the writing of this daily stint. To help tone up the report on President Truman's speech at the Jackson Day Dinner, he came through with several gratuitous suggestions.

He said that the President's speech made him think of Mr. Micawber, Dickens' eternal optimist who was always sure that something was about to turn up to change his fortunes.

But we ruled out Dickens' dear old sentimentalism. After all, Mr. Micawber came to a bad end. He was sure that something was about to turn up on the very eve of his arrest for bad debts.

Next, my eager friend suggested a parallel with Voltaire's Candide. Candide was forever saying, "all is for the best in the best of possible worlds." He kept on saying it even when he was going through the most painful and horrifying experiences.

Candide seemed, however, a little too high flown, too literary, Voltaire was out.

What it came down to, and this is a confession, was Eleanor Hodgman Porter's gem of some years back, "Pollyanna, the Glad Girl." (What is more, and this really is pretty bad, my friend suggested it should be spelled "Pauleyanna"). "Pollyanna" came out considerably before the Coolidge era, but it would have served admirably as a piece of the moral furniture of that time—as a large, squashy sofa into which you could sink right up to your neck.

Perhaps my friend was unnecessarily unkind about the President's speech. After all, it was an occasion for good fellowship with the members of his party gathered around the festive board.

In advance of the speech, however, there had been rumblings of what the President would say about party unity and party responsibility. There seemed reason to believe that this would be a hard-hitting talk in which the chief executive would serve notice that irresponsibility in Congress was not merely damaging Democratic chances of re-election, but threatening the nation's reconversion program.

The President may have such a speech in his system. Heavens knows, he's had plenty of provocation.

But the Jackson Day speech was not it. That address had all the violent impact of a feather falling on velvet.

All of this makes talk of a purge within the Democratic party sound very foolish. President Roosevelt was reluctantly persuaded in 1933 to try to eliminate some of the most contrary Democrats in Congress. With one exception, that attempt failed miserably. The rancor it left behind was not soon forgotten.

It is hard to conceive of President Truman taking a similar step. He has long been schooled in party orthodoxy and party loyalty.

There are dissenters who defy the President from his very front porch, or what used to be his front porch. Representative Roger C. Slaughter of Missouri was elected from the district in Missouri that includes a large part of Jackson county. It includes Truman's home town of Independence.

Slaughter has voted against almost every measure Truman has recommended to Congress. Moreover, as a member of the monopolistic rules committee, he has helped to bottle up the "must" bills the President has sent up to the hill. Another Missourian, Clarence Cannon, chairman of the Appropriations committee, has certainly not helped his old friend.

The strongest approach in the Presidential speech to party unity and party responsibility was to say that without it "the party program is delayed." That is certainly an understatement. The party program is already seriously delayed. Earlier in his talk, the President had said:

"Only by dedicating ourselves to the principle of national unity can we keep America strong and free. And this same basic principle applies to the Democratic party. As in the nation at large, there is diversity of opinion among us, but the fundamental principles of the Democratic party bind us together in a unity of purpose—and inflexible determination that our party shall advance to new and greater achievements."

The stage had been set. Secretary Wallace and Democratic Chairman Hannegan had both struck the note of party obligation. But the President is apparently not prepared to quarrel with the men in his party who are sabotaging his program.

READER'S CORNER

From L. A. H., Cambridge: Will you please discuss the meaning and pronunciation of the name of Mexico's famous moving picture comedian Cantinflas?

Answer: The comedian's real name is Mario Moreno (MAH-ree-oh moe-RAH-noe). His stage name, Cantinflas, is his own invention, and it has no meaning. However, it is a combination of sounds which, to the Mexicans, is very humorous. Cantinflas is accented on the second syllable, thus: kah-n-TEEN-flahss.

From F. W. Beaumont, Texas: In your recent article on queer place names in America, you listed several found in Texas, adding, "but nowhere in the Lone Star State is there to be found a single Brax." Colby, you're wrong! Here is a Santa Fe timetable showing the town of Bragg in Hardin County, Texas.

Answer: I hereby publicly restore to Texas the official right to Bragg. (It was a good gag, though, even if it did backfire.)

THE OLD HOUSE—A new day is starting in the construction of homes in Escanaba. This will mean that many of the old houses, some 70 or more years old, must be razed to make room for the dwelling with central heat, plenty of electric outlets, insulated walls and modern comfort.

In the razing of the old houses articles of interest to the local historian are often found. Such was the case when Bruce Brackett of 215 Ogden avenue purchased a house at 217 Ogden and began tearing it down. Exactly who built the old house, or when, Bruce does not know, but it is believed to be among the first houses constructed in Escanaba.

Of interest were copies of two old magazine found between the studding in one of the rooms. One is a Harper's Bazaar "A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure and Instruction," published Jan. 4, 1873, and the other is The Christian Union, Henry Ward Beecher, editor, published Oct. 30, 1872.

HARPER'S BAZAAR—Both magazines are a trifle the worse for age. They are stained and discolored from moisture, and there is a hole rotted through the front cover of Harper's Bazaar—a hole that eliminates the face of a beau of the 1870's who is calling on an elegantly dressed young lady. The cover pictures the young lady yawning behind her fan, and the title is "The Last Call."

Harper's Bazaar was a magazine widely circulated in the days when ladies had no corner dress shops, when ready-to-wear did not exist, and if a woman wanted to be in fashion she had to follow a pattern and hope for the best. If they achieved the proper "elegant effect" it was largely the result of their own good taste.

ONLY A NAME—Penciled on the cover of the Bazaar is the name Capt. Taylor. Who was Capt. Taylor of 1873 in Escanaba? Perhaps a Great Lakes skipper, home for the winter months. Perhaps a man who, leaving the city, brought a Bazaar home to his wife or daughters.

TOUCH OF HUMOR—The elegant Harper's Bazaar does not stoop to ribald humor or pictures of undressed young women to hold the attention of its readers. Rather it is "genteel" in the manner of the period, ecstatically feminine in ruffles and lambrequins, and carefully "cute" with quips and sayings.

Example of its humor: What is that which, when brought to the table, is cut but never eaten?—A pack of cards.

And again: There was an old preacher in Hull, who had nothing at all in his skull; his flock came before him, and said "Cock-a-lorum, your sermons are awfully dull."

We might add that so were the jokes in those days.

TO THE BITTER END—The ladies of the 70's demanded their heroines pure as the driven snow, their heroes strong and manly, and their villains—well, the blacker the better.

Running serially in Harper's Bazaar was a novel, "To The Bitter End," written by one Miss Braddon, who was also guilty of perpetrating "Lady Audrey's Secret."

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to SERVICE BUREAU, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington, 5, D. G. I.—VETERANS' SERVICE

Q. Does the Veterans Administration reimburse a veteran for medical or surgical care required by his dependents?

A. No.

Q. Is it true that men in the Navy continue to count points for service?

A. Yes, point score credits may be credited as earned. Credits for age under the Navy plan are also cumulative. As a man passes the half-way mark between birthdays, he gets another half-point credit. The only "freeze" date for Navy credits concerns credits for dependents and in that case dependency must have existed as of August 15, 1945.

Q. Should the World War II Victory Ribbon be worn after campaign ribbons? Is it proper to wear battle stars on it?

A. The Victory Ribbon should be worn immediately after the campaign ribbon for World War II. No battle stars may be worn on this ribbon.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. When was the wife of Emperor Franz Joseph I of Austria assassinated?

A. Princess Elizabeth Amalie Eugenie, "Duchess of Bavaria," was married to Emperor Franz Joseph I in 1854, but they became estranged long before her death. She was assassinated in Geneva, Switzerland, September 10, 1898.

Q. Is the proverb "He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith" in the Bible?

A. It is in Ecclesiastes 1:37 in the Authorized Version.

Q. What are the principal uses of selenite?

A. The chief uses are for stationary washbaths, sinks, acid tanks, heart-stones, fire brick, mantel and griddles.

Q. What is the source of the line "Thrice he is armed that hath his quarrel just"?

A. Shakespeare's "Cine Henry VI" Part II, Act III, Scene 2.

Q. What is the significance of the statue of Tecumseh at the Naval Academy?

A. The original statue, known to misshapen as "The God of 23" was once the fire-eater on the frigate Delaware. In 1891, a bronze replica was made and erected at the Academy. The new mark for the students is 2.5 and those who were worried over their standing were supposed to offer a silent prayer to Tecumseh for help as they marched to examinations.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—That the Truman cabinet is not looking for war in the near future, despite warlike talk, was indicated at a secret session of the Senate Military Affairs Committee last week.

When Secretary of State Byrnes and Secretary of War Patterson testified in favor of an extension of the Selective Service Act, the figures they presented on planned strength of the army and navy were exactly the same as those presented early in January. In other words, they proposed an army of barely over a million men by July of 1947.

The senators had expected that because of the complicated international situation a larger army would be asked for, but the War and State departments made no such request. When one senator asked how it happened that there was no "emergency" planning, Secretary Byrnes refused to answer. He passed the question to Secretary Patterson, who also did not reply.

—WALLACE SPEECH CENSORED—

It wasn't supposed to be known outside the cabinet, but Henry Wallace's speech at the Jackson Day dinner was censored—by President Truman himself. Wallace had one line in his speech which he thought would answer Republican critics. It read: "Abraham Lincoln was not a member of our party. But he was certainly a fellow traveler."

Truman thought such a reference to the martyred Lincoln might be misunderstood and cut it out. Wallace was glad to concur.

—BRITISH WANT WAR—

British Tories were pleased as Punch over Winston Churchill's Fulton, Mo., speech—for several reasons.

First, they think it is now less likely that Britain will get its loan from this country, and they do not want the loan. Tory leaders would prefer to work out their own problems by closing an economic ring around the sterling bloc nations and using tabbed currency so they could only import goods from England. This was the same plan Dr. Hjalmar Schacht devised for the Nazis.

Reason No. 2 was Russia. It is highly significant that just one day after the Churchill speech, reactionary Russia—hater Lord Beaverbrook called a secret meeting of leading industrialists to plan a diplomatic campaign which some Britishers fear might lead to eventual war with the Soviet Union. Present at the meeting were three members of the labor cabinet—including Arthur Greenwood and Ernest Bevin.

—MEN'S SUITS—

It still looks like a long wait before veterans can get the clothing they need. The office of War Mobilization and Reconversion will soon bring out a report on men's clothing showing a need for 40 million suits this year but production plans for only about 28 million.

The report will also show that first quarter production has been only about five million, and officials of the Civilian Production Administration are worried sick that even the goal of 28 million suits for 1946 will not be met.

There is no sign yet that the increase in prices granted this month by OPA will mean more men's suits. There are indications, however, that large stocks of suits are being held off the market in the hope that price control will not be extended beyond June.

—NEW AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA—

Senator Tom Connally of Texas chased reporters from the room and closed the doors of the foreign relations committee during the juiciest part of the testimony of General Bedell Smith, new U. S. Ambassador to Russia.

This was in connection with the late General George Patton's slapping of a shell-shocked soldier.

Asked if he was responsible for the army's denial that Patton had been reprimanded by General Dwight Eisenhower—a denial later repudiated—Smith replied: "Yes, I was responsible for the original statement."

The three-star General blushed and squirmed in his chair as he made the admission.

"Why did you do that?" he was asked. "What grounds was there for such a statement if you knew General Patton had actually been reprimanded?"

"Well, technically I was correct," Smith replied with an air that didn't strike committee members as very convincing. "While certain steps had been taken, there had been no formal reprimand at the time the statement was issued."

Smith appeared contrite about the incident, so committee members didn't censure him or protract the questioning after he made his "confession."

—CAPITAL CHAFF—

Two movie companies are bidding for "Saints and Strangers," the new best seller written by George Willison of the Democratic National Committee . . . former Democratic Senator Clarence Dill of Washington is being urged for one of the vacant assistant secretaryships of the interior department . . . Jim Landis, former American minister to Egypt, may be headed for a new important administration job soon . . . New Mexico's governor Jack Dempsey decided after two talks with President Truman that he would not oppose Senator Dennis Chavez in the New Mexico Democratic primary . . . OPA administrator Paul Porter turned out to be the top entertainment attraction at a buffet dinner Bob Hannegan threw for President Truman the other night. Porter sang and danced the song he wrote during the '44 president campaign, "Don't Change Horses in the Middle of the Stream." . . . the OPA will speed up the lifting of pricing restrictions on certain items soon, including heavy machinery, printing presses, laundry machines, etc.

Many Delta County Women Served In World War II; 46 Discharges Recorded

Delta county's young women, most of them Escanabans, were well represented in the armed forces during World War II and the discharge records of 46 of them have already been received at the local draft board offices.

An additional number of women are still in service and others who served are not named in the list below, probably because their addresses at the time of enlistment in the armed forces were not in Delta county.

Of the 46 recorded here, 32 of the women are from Escanaba, six from Gladstone, three from Garden and one each from Wells, Rock, Nahma, Cornell and Bark River.

Majority in Army

Thirteen of the 46 are nurses and 28 of the total served in the Army, 13 in the Navy, four in the Marine Corps and one in the Coast Guard.

Earliest release date of any of the girl veterans was Sept. 2, 1943, and the latest, according to the records here, was March 6 of this year.

The Delta county women are listed below by rank, name and date of discharge as well as according to town and the branch of service in which they were active:

Escanabans

Escanabans who served in the Army:

Tec/5 Mildred M. Bawden, Nov. 1, 1945; 1st Lt. (RN) Mae B. Bergman, Dec. 11, 1945; Cpl. Winifred M. Britton, Dec. 6, 1944; Tec/3 Marianne B. Corcoran, Sept. 24, 1945; Sgt. Madeline C. Decker, Oct. 20, 1945; Pfc. Veronica Frank, Sept. 15, 1944; 1st Lt. (RN) Anita M. Guay, Feb. 10, 1946; Pvt. Mary C. Hirt, May 29, 1945; 1st Lt. (RN) Loraine Menard, Feb. 25, 1946; 2nd Lt. Richards, July 21, 1945; 2nd Lt. (RN) Dorothy F. VanLester, Jan. 4, 1946; Cpl. Doris G. Wallis, Sept. 5, 1945.

Escanabans in Navy

Escanaba's U. S. Navy veterans include:

S 1/c (RM) V-10 Kathryn Tobin Alperovitz, Dec. 19, 1945; SK 2/c Elizabeth Jane Bisdie, Dec. 7, 1945; Y 3/c V-10 Phyllis J. L. Brodowsky, Oct. 19, 1945; Y 1/c V-10 Esther L. Carlson, Dec. 30, 1945; AMM 3/c V-10 Florence C. Johnson, Dec. 2, 1945; PM 2/c (T) V-10 Irene I. Kallio, Nov. 7, 1945; Lt. (jg) W. Mary Agnes LeFebvre, Sept. 21, 1945; SK 2/c V-10 Anne C. Michaud, Oct. 9, 1945; AMM 2/c V-10 Ethel S. Pearson, Nov. 20, 1945.

U. S. M. C. and Coast Guard
Escanaba was represented in the U. S. Marine Corps by S/Sgt. Ruth Jane Moras, Nov. 16, 1945, and Sgt. Katherine Mary Tushak, Oct. 3, 1945; in the Coast Guard by AS W-10 Alta Marie Giansanti, Sept. 2, 1943.

Gladstone Girl Vets

Women veterans from Gladstone are: (Army) S/Sgt. Thelma M. Erickson, Sept. 24, 1945; 1st Lt. (RN) Irene O. Larson, Dec. 26, 1945; (Navy) PM 3/3 V-10 Laverne M. Carrier, Dec. 19, 1945; Sp (X) (VA) 3/c V-10 Dorothy J. Coffel, Dec. 3, 1945; S 2/c Mary Marguerite Gabriel, Sept. 14, 1945.

Plan Training for Persons In Resort And Tourist Trade

Discussion of a proposed training course for persons employed in the tourist and resort industry in Delta county will be held at a meeting scheduled for 9:30 a. m. Saturday, March 30, in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office.

Leaders in the resort and tourist business of the county have been invited by the Chamber of Commerce to meet and consider the possibility of participating in such a training course sponsored by the U. P. Development Bureau. It will be determined at the meeting whether there is need of such training here, and if so when the course of instruction will start.

Milton Gustafson, member of the faculty of Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, will attend the Saturday meeting in Escanaba, it is announced by George Bishop, secretary-manager of the Development Bureau. Gustafson will be in charge of the teaching staff for the project, not only here but in other counties of the Upper Peninsula.

Purpose of the course of instruction would be to train waitresses in resort hotels, caretakers at resorts and other tourist facilities, hotel clerks, bell hops, service station operators and others who come in personal contact with the tourist in the method of meeting and treating the tourist for the best interest of the resort industry.

USES Office Here To Close Saturdays

The United States Employment Service office, located at 1323 Ludington street, will not be open on Saturdays, it was announced by James Damitz, local manager, yesterday.

The new hours to be followed by the office will be: 8:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m. Mondays through Fridays.

John H. Kobs is coaching Michigan State College baseball for the 21st season.

Fishermen, Lighthouse Crews Open Navigation

With the first ore and coal carriers still unscheduled at Escanaba, local commercial fishermen and lighthouse crews yesterday opened the navigation season on northern Green bay despite the threat of drifting ice floes.

The lighthouse at Escanaba went into commission yesterday for the season as fish boats cleared the harbor, with the fishermen intent on getting nets out as soon as possible. Ralph Christensen's "Arlene" and fish boats owned by Harold Olson and Clarence Hansen went out yesterday, although Christensen had "broken the ice" Tuesday in the initial trip of the season.

Capt. Dan Garrett, Escanaba lighthouse keeper, said the Squaw Point lighthouse on Little Bay de Noc near Gladstone is not expected to go into commission for another week.

Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse, located 12 miles south of Escanaba in Green Bay, was to go into commission yesterday, but Capt. Tony Jensen and his crew were turned back by ice floes in their efforts to reach the light. They will make another attempt today in the lighthouse launch. It will be one of the earliest openings for Minneapolis Shoal in its history. Last year the light went into commission March 28, but the crew was taken there by a Coast Guard boat after the icebreaker Mackinaw had broken a channel in bay ice.

With Jensen at the Minneapolis Shoal light for the season will be William O'Hern, first assistant, and Peter Benjamin Scott, second assistant.

How successful the early season fishing will be has yet to be determined, for the fishermen have not yet had their nets in long enough to make a lift. The fishermen are expected to know within a few days whether the smelt are returning to local waters in any number, and will be able to better predict the possibility of a 1946 smelt run.

At Marinette and Menominee commercial fishermen also were out with their boats. They reported no sign of a smelt run yet, but expected the run to get under way next week on the Menominee river. Smelt prices there ranged from 20 to 25 cents a pound.

Warehouse Burned At Veneer Plant

Fire believed to have been started by a lighted cigarette stub thrown into dry grass near the building, destroyed a two-story wooden warehouse on the Escanaba Veneer company location on Wednesday afternoon.

Efforts of city firemen, called at 3:45 p. m., were unavailing, the blaze being too far advanced in the dry frame structure.

The warehouse had not been used for some time, and contained nothing of great value. It was formerly utilized by the Birds Eye Veneer Co., as a sorting shed.

SPINACH JUICE CHECKS DISEASE

Three Plant Viruses Are Paralyzed But Not Killed

St. Louis—Small boys are not the only creatures that don't like spinach. Beings that are much smaller (invisible small, in fact) are apparently paralyzed by the presence of juice squeezed out of spinach leaves. They are the viruses of three different plant diseases, whose reactions to spinach extract were reported today before the American Phytopathological Society, meeting here jointly with the American Association for the Advancement of Science, by Dr. J. E. Kuntz and Dr. J. E. Walker of the University of Wisconsin.

There appear to be two substances in the spinach juice that have inhibiting effects on viruses. They have not yet been isolated and identified, but they have differing chemical and physical behavior; moreover, each attacks one particular virus but does not harm the other.

The Wisconsin plant pathologist did not say that their unidentified spinach-juice substances are antibiotics, like penicillin and streptomycin, but their description suggests that their action at least resembles that of antibiotics. So long as they are mixed with the virus in solution, the viruses appear to be without power to produce disease in plants. But the viruses are not destroyed, for if the substances are rendered inactive by suitable physical or chemical means their power to produce disease immediately returns.

Against Potato Blight

Potatoes are better protected against the destructive disease known as early blight when they are treated with a combination of the new organic fungicide, Dithane, with zinc sulfate, than they are with either Dithane alone or with any one of several other chemical combinations tested. Dr. J. W. Heuberger, research chemist on the staff of Rohm and Haas Company, reported. Dithane alone reduced the disease in an infected test plot by only 15%; combined with the zinc sulfate it brought about 87% control.

Powers, Mich.—Captain Irvin W. Schildknecht, Officer in Charge of Recruiting in the Upper Peninsula today announced the opening of a recruiting office in Powers, Michigan. Sgt. George T. Siler of Cottonwood, Arizona will be the non-commissioned officer in charge. Sgt. Siler said his office will be open every Wednesday from 9:00 in the morning to 4:30 in the afternoon in the Postoffice building. Sgt. Siler also announced that men who have been discharged from the Army over 90 days since May 12, 1945 are now eligible to reenlist at a grade as high or nearly as high as they held during service.

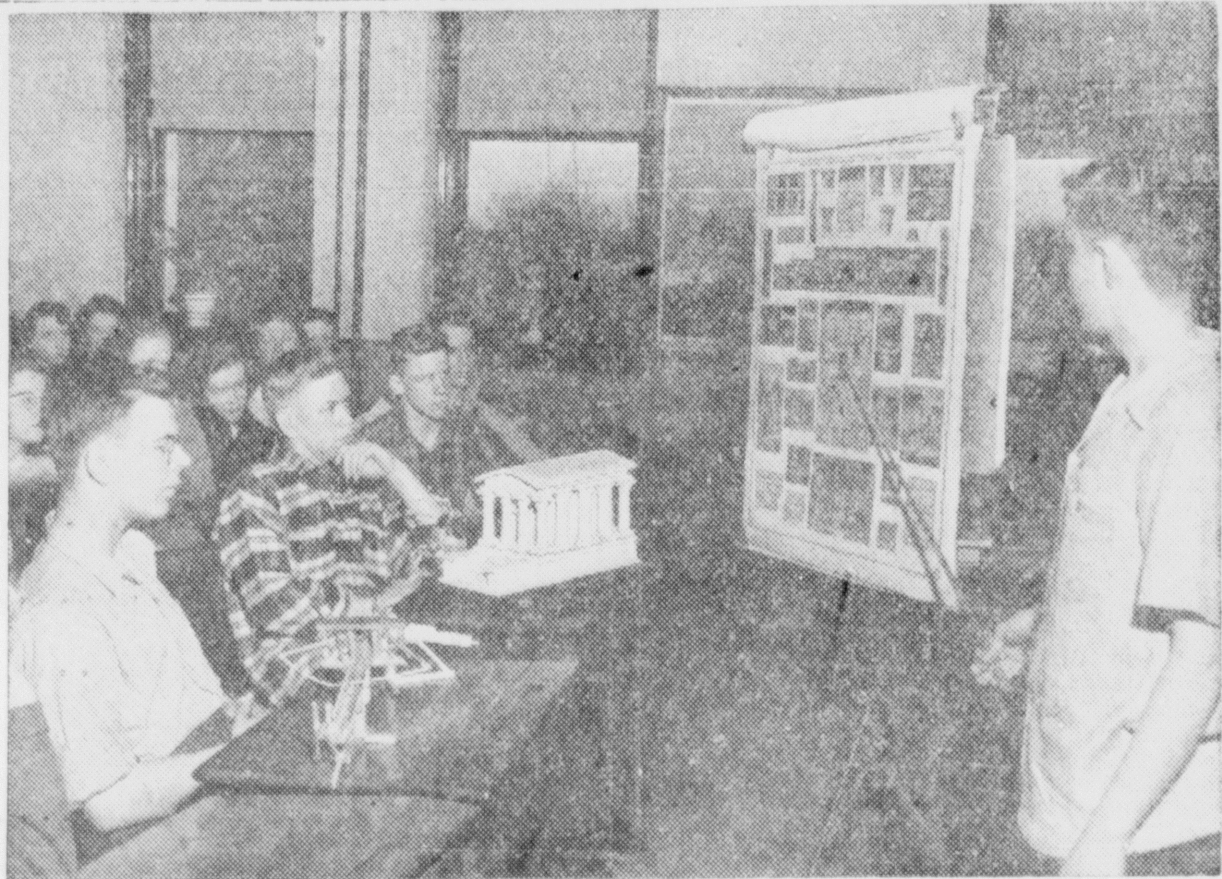

Men who can qualify for classification as specialists on a basis of prior training and experience in the service may be enlisted at grades from Pfc. as a duty soldier to T/Sgt. in certain specialist classifications.

The number of months a discharged soldier served in his specialty is a prime determinant of the man's reenlistment grade, Sgt. Siler explained. He added that at the present time grades were open in nearly every Army category and he urged men with any interest to contact him next Wednesday in the postoffice.

The Captain further explained that reenlistment grades were apt to be lowered from time to time as the Army needs are met.

LATIN IS FUN — Pictured above is Jim Moran, Latin student at the Escanaba senior high school explaining Roman architecture to fellow members of the class by use of a chart. In center of picture are shown models of ancient weapons and a Roman temple which have been constructed by enthusiastic students in their study of this language. Bertrand Henne is the instructor of Latin at the senior high school.

Models And Charts Make Study Of Latin Interesting Nowadays

The study of Latin today is much different than that of did and mom's school and greatly different than that of their parents.

The actual work in the Latin language is enriched by reading books about Roman life; by observing pictures and charts; and by performances of different types of projects and activities. Thus humanistic, as well as linguistic values receive emphasis.

Throughout the course offered at the Escanaba senior high school emphasis is placed on the contributions of Latin to our own languages and literature; to its place in advertising, architecture, music and the arts.

Bertrand Henne, Latin instructor, pointed out that ancient personages and heroes are studied and discussed for the social and moral concepts they exemplified, their qualities of honor, character, courage and fortitude.

The class studies a model of a Roman temple and with a chart can trace the architecture of that day, studying the different parts of the temple as in the picture above. They also study the costumes of the time by dressing in Roman robes. Old time weapons of war are modeled in wood to help the students understand better the basics of our modern weapons.

List Tourist Homes Now, Bureau Urges

Marquette — Pointing out that 1946 tourist patronage will tax all available housing and feeding facilities throughout the Upper Peninsula, George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the U. P. Development Bureau, is advising Chambers of Commerce and resort associations to list immediately every room which will be available for rent during June, July and August.

Bishop based his prediction on the large number of inquiries being received at the Bureau's office in Marquette and at Michigan Tourist Council offices in Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland and Lansing.

"Inquiries from prospective visitors are running 300 per cent ahead of 1941, our last pre-war vacation year," he said, "indicating that we can expect an unprecedented flow of tourist traffic this summer."

sardi is still confined to St. Francis hospital, but is much improved and is permitted to have visitors.

DELTA 4-H CLUB DAY SCHEDULED

Achievement Program To Be Held In Escanaba
Saturday, April 6

The annual spring Achievement Day program for 4-H Club boys and girls engaged in winter projects work in Delta county will be held at the senior high school gymnasium in Escanaba Saturday, April 6. It was announced yesterday by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

Wenner said that the enrollment in 4-H Clubs in Delta county is now the highest in many years, and that about 500 county boys and girls are expected in Escanaba for the Achievement Day program.

The members who have been working in handicraft, clothing, good grooming and other club projects during the winter months will display their handiwork in exhibits which will be set up in the school gymnasium a couple days before Achievement Day. These exhibits will be judged by Miss Edith Johnson and Orville Walker of Marquette, assistant state 4-H leaders.

The program will open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and a style revue will feature the forenoon activities. Garments made by 4-H Club girls in their clothing project work will be modeled as a part of the style show.

4-H Club members will be transported to Escanaba by bus for the day's program. In the afternoon they will attend a special moving picture matinee at a local theater.

The public is invited to view the exhibits on Friday, April 5, the day before the program.

Consistory Will Meet In Marquette

Marquette—The Forty First Reunion of the Francis M. Moore Consistory and Co-Ordinate Bodies, at which candidates from all over the Upper Peninsula will be made Thirty Second Degree Masons, will be held at the Masonic Temple at Marquette on May 8 to 11, it was announced here today by L. V. Johnson, Commander in Chief of the Consistory.

Rev. Benjamin F. P. Ivins, 33, Milwaukee, will be the principal speaker at the banquet to be held at the close of the Reunion Saturday evening, May 11.

One of the features of the Reunion will be the Ninth Degree exemplified by a degree team from the Green Bay, Wis., Lodge of Perfection.

Nine degrees will be exemplified during the reunion, beginning Wednesday evening, May 8, and continuing through until Saturday afternoon.

It is expected that one of the largest classes in the history of the Francis M. Moore Consistory, coming from all parts of the Upper Peninsula will witness the exemplification of these degrees.

Boy Scouts Hold Charter Night, Present Awards

Charter night at Bark River, under the auspices of cubbers, scouters, and friends of scouting in Bark River, was held last Tuesday evening with 125 in attendance.

The program of the evening, opened with a pot luck supper prepared by the citizens of Bark River, namely: Mesdames, W. LaVigne, Dan LesVesque, Martin Kwarciay, William Kasbohm, Oscar Olson, William Peltier, John Barr, B. R. Erickson, Carl Bolm, and Albert E. Johnson. Food materials were donated by the committeemen of the three units in Bark River.

A short talk was given by Cubmaster Rev. Emory Pokrant, who expressed the need for the furthering of the scouting program, with emphasis of satisfaction on the growth of local scouting groups during the past year.

Charters of the units were presented to the sponsoring heads: Bark River Grange, Frank Roman, Grand Master, sponsor of Troop 446; Mr. Palmgren, of Bark River P. T. A., sponsor of Cub Pack 415; and Carl Bolm, representative of Sunnyside Patrol 447. Certificates were also presented to the Cubbers and Scouters: Cubbers—Rev. Pokrant, Alfred Anderson, chairman, Albert Johnson, and H. W. Boyle, committeemen; Den Mothers Mesdames June Kasbohm, Albert Johnson and Martin Kwarciay and Assistant Cubmaster Bert Erickson. Presentation was made by Robert Clayton, commissioner of Escanaba.

Scouters receiving certificates were: Ray Raymond, Scoutmaster; Roy Bergman, chairman; Ben Douglas and Burt Poquette, committeemen, and Louis Derocher, assistant Scoutmaster. John Barr, Jr., also received a certificate as assistant Scoutmaster of Patrol 447 of Sunnyside.

Awards and certificates were presented to the Scouts by Scoutmaster Raymond, who spoke briefly on the qualifications of awards earned with encouraging words for further advancement on the part of the Scouts. First Class rank, Leroy Johnson; Second Class rank, Patrick Bergman, Spencer

Sundquist, Walton Peterson and Kenneth Bolm; Tenderfoot rank, Jack Erickson, Richard Peltier, Arlen Johnson, Richard Hennessey and Ralph Bugay; Life rank, John Barr, Jr.

Other Scouts in attendance were: Dale Erickson, Robert Wickstrom, Leonard Erickson, Jack LesVesque and Howard Erickson, receiving registration certificates.

Awards presented to the Cub Scouts by Cubmaster Pokrant were: Wolf award, Wayne Erickson, Robert Johnson, John Pierson, Peter Kasbohm, Robert Nelson, Kenneth Olson, Harry Peltier, Dicky Douglas, Kenneth Heim, Rodney Sund-quist and James LesVesque; Bear award, Robert Bolm and David Kwarciay; Gold Arrow awards for special achievements, Robert Johnson, David Kwarciay, Peter Kasbohm, William Kasbohm, Kenneth Olson, Dicky and Kenneth Heim.

Several merit badges in the field of rural scouting were presented to John Barr, Jr. The special fields of endeavor were: masonry, plumbing, cooking, first aid, public health, personal health, farm record keeping, farm home and its planning, farm home and building arrangement, carpentry, soil management, agriculture, and others of the rural area environment. Scout Barr, on receiving his Life award, is now well on the way to the highest rank in Scouting, the Eagle award.

The program closed with the Cub Scouts and Scouts rededicating themselves to the Cub promise and the Scout oath, followed by a motion picture on Cubbing.

This is the second annual scouting event of this nature held during recent years in Bark River, which again proved a great success.

Actress Appears
On Women's Club
Program Today

An unusual program will be presented this afternoon at the meeting of the Escanaba Women's Club, when Jessie Rae Taylor appears in "Personality Portraits," a series of characterizations from story, stage and screen.

The meeting, which will be held at the Sherman hotel, will begin with a short business session at 2 o'clock, instead of at 2:30, as previously scheduled, it was announced by Mrs. John J. Mitchell, president. The program will follow immediately after the business meeting.

Miss Taylor's program promises to be entertaining and artistic. Her living portraits are presented in full costume and make-up, with spectacular lighting. She makes the quick changes from one character to another in full view of the audience. Mrs. John J. Wolkenhauer, program chairman, urges all members to make a special effort to attend this outstanding event.

Mrs. A. M. Gilbert is chairman for the day, assisted by Mrs. John M. Trotter and Mrs. Carl G. Nelson.

Baldness And Grey Hair Has Increased During War Years

BY ELEANOR GRIESEMER
AP Newsfeatures

Baltimore — Don't look in the mirror now, but there is a nationwide trend toward greyness and bald heads. And your chances of getting those silver threads early are 30 to 40 percent greater, thanks to six war years.

This is the opinion of Dr. Herman Stein, head of the hair research laboratory of New York, who contends the war raised havoc with hair health. He told the Baltimore convention of the Hair Fashion Council of America that a balanced diet and a quiet mind make the best restoratives for hair damaged by war worry.

"Upset of the nervous system," not age, is responsible for the increase in hair deficiencies, he says. And the upset is due to vitamin deficiencies, which can be caused by anything from unrequited love to monotonous war work. He adds:

"GI baldness is widespread, and in their case the trouble comes from nervous reaction, which takes its toll of the hair and fingernails."

Happiness, in Stein's opinion, contributes to hair health. But the stylists at the convention had a solution:

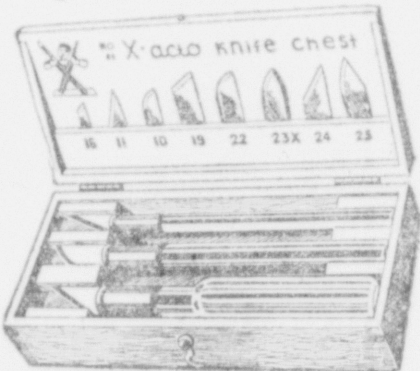

Adolph Biecker, Philadelphia coiffeur, showed hair wigs which can be combed and shampooed to fool almost anybody. They are made from real hair, preferably European, Biecker said. The hair often comes from novices entering convents or from peasant women who trade their locks for the trinkets of peddlers, who in turn sell the hair in city markets.

The hair is "crocheted" into a custom-fitted, mesh gauze skullcap with an almost microscopic needle, and knotted under the cap with the root ends together.

Ladies with little or no hair usually have two or three such "transformations" so they can change coifs or leave one at the hairdressers to be washed or dry-cleaned.

The price, for either brown curls or grey, runs from $150 to $200. The Ayrshire cow was imported into the United States in 1822 from Ayr, Scotland.

Rialto Bldg.STRIKE ON AT PORT INLANDWorkers Quit At Eight O'clock Wednesday Morning

Employees of the Inland Lime and Stone Company are now on strike. The differences between the company and Local 377, International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelterworkers (CIO) were not settled in time to avert a walkout and save for the maintenance men authorized to continue their work, the huge quarry and loading plant at Port Inland is idle.

Picketing at the plant is confined to but a few employees stationed at the entrance to the plant. Workers otherwise are generally in town or within call.

The decision to strike came as a result of a meeting held in Manistique Sunday and went into effect Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock. Gene Sari, of Hancock, international representative of the union, who was present at Sunday's meeting, left Tuesday for Marquette.

The strike committee of Local 377, in a communication authorized by Robert E. Marks, president of the local, yesterday, issued the following communication:

"So that all the facts are made available to the public it is deemed advisable to supplement the recent statement to the Press, by the company, with the following information.

"Local No. 377, I. U. M. & S. W.'s (CIO) has never engaged in a so-called 'wild-cat' or unauthorized strike, nor in fact, a work stoppage of any kind. It has always observed, scrupulously, every condition of its labor agreement.

"During the war years, when the unfair 'Little Steel' formula was in operation, every effort was made by the men to meet and maintain the tonnage schedules demanding by a vastly expanded steel production program. We met those war-time schedules, increasing tonnage figures each year. We reasonably believe that some part of the various 'E' and 'M' awards given to our parent company (Inland Steel Co.) reflect in some degree our efforts also. Their strike has now been settled, and on a basis of 18 1/2 cents per hour increase, and yet though we operated under the same rules or 'formula' during those years it is now maintained by the company that we have nothing in common with the steel industry and therefore are not entitled to a like settlement.

"Our contract with the company was terminated last fall. Since then an honest attempt at negotiating a new contract has been made by the local. Most of the demands have been scaled down by the men in an earnest effort to settle the matter. The climax was reached recently when a 2 1/2 cent per hour offer (above the current 12 1/2 cent offer) was tentatively agreed to by the company. In all probability the men would have accepted the 15 cent increase and no strike would have ensued. However the offer was withdrawn by the management on the following day—no reason given.

"Many people do not realize that Inland Lime & Stone Co. employees must spend from one and one-half to two hours, each day, riding the buses to and from Port Inland. This in addition to their regular work day of eight hours. No pay is received for those hours on the buses but we do pay a charge of 15 cents per day to ride the buses. Now 15 cents isn't a great deal of money for such a long ride but based on an eight hour day it means just about 2 cents per hour less in take-home pay. Many firms transport their employees on a free basis where workers are required to travel such distances to the manufacturing site.

"Based on the reports of various fact-finding boards and in view of the widely accepted national pattern of 15 1/2 cents per hour increase used in settling disputes throughout the industry we are firm in our belief that our demand is just and that the local's position in the matter has been wholly one of fairness and co-operation."

Seney Man Fined

Appear For Duty
April 8

Petit jurors for the April term of Schoolcraft county circuit court, which convenes on Monday, April 8 with Judge Herbert Runnels presiding, have been selected by G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk; John M. Hewitt, sheriff, and W. G. Stephens, justice of the peace.

The jurors will be summoned to appear for duty on the morning of Tuesday, April 9, at 10 o'clock.

Following are the jurors: Hulda Blomquist, Myrtle L. Moore, Gust W. Larson, Ray O. Martin, Keith Bundy, Everett M. Wood, Hildur Nylander and Ellen Heitman, all of Manistique; William Bowman and Walter Peterson, Doyle township; William Ackley and Harry Ruppert, Germfask township; Mayme M. Bashore and LeRoy Oberg, Hiawatha township; Mabel Knuth and Joseph J. Hardy, Inwood township; Edith Klagstad and Charles Arrowood, Manistique township; Arthur Anderson and Charles Willour, Mueller township; Effie Nelson and Emil Kestola, Seney township; and Joseph Hursh and Grace Jewett, Thompson township.

YOUTHS STAGE
NERVY HOLDUPGulliver Woman Slugged
By Hitchhiker; River
Road Boys Held

Two River Road brothers, Benjamin Joslin, 16, and Homer Joslin, 18, are being held in the Schoolcraft county jail after a highway holdup near Fairview cemetery with two women as the victims. The women are Mrs. Stella Paul and Mrs. Cathryn Beal, both of Gulliver, and the latter is in Shaw hospital for treatment of lacerations and scalp wounds which she said were inflicted when one of the boys slugged her on the head with the butt of a gun.

According to information gathered by Sheriff John Hewitt and Sgt. Kenneth White and Trooper Oliver Scholander of the state police, the incident occurred about 9:30 p. m. Wednesday when the two women, returning to their homes after a trip to Manistique, were accosted on the highway by two hitchhikers who thumbed a ride. The youths took the rear seat of the car and as they reached the cemetery one asked to get out and the other rode on.

The one who remained in the car then asked Mrs. Beal how much money she had. She replied that she had about $4, and the youth is said to have told her: "Give it to me or I'll shoot you." The women were ordered to turn north onto a side road, and Mrs. Beal was then slugged. The two victims escaped and ran to the Rogers Klagstad home, from where police were notified. A description of the assailants led to the arrest of the Joslin boys, both of whom are reported to have served time in the state vocational school.

A pocketbook which Mrs. Paul said contained $90 was found empty near the spot where the women ran away from the hold-up pair.

Waste Fat Drive
To Be Conducted
By School Pupils

The cooperation of the public in general is asked in the promotion of a fat salvage drive being conducted under the sponsorship of the Lakeside-Central PTA with the assistance of the pupils of those two schools.

The children will bring the salvaged fat to the schools and the committees in charge of the drive will take it in charge. Anyone wishing to donate to the drive should notify Mrs. Don McNally who will see that it is brought to the school.

The collection will be made on Friday.

Will Discuss
Extension Of Power Lines

A meeting of importance to residents of rural areas who are interested in obtaining electricity for their farm homes, will be held in the court house in Manistique this evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Representatives of the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company, will be present to discuss with residents of Inwood, Manistique and Doyle townships who are not served by the company at present, what may be expected in extended service in the immediate future.

While there are limits to the extent that extension of power lines would be practical, the information given at the meeting will be of interest to all who are interested in electrification of their homes. The meeting is open to the public in general.

Social

Birthday Party

EXPANSION IS BEING PLANNEDMacGillis & Gibbs Co.,
To Employ 25
More

Expansion by the MacGillis & Gibbs Co., which would provide employment for an additional 25 persons is being planned it is revealed in a letter from the company to the city commission requesting extension of water service to the plant.

The firm is now manufacturing rustic furniture and fencing. City Manager H. J. Henrikson was authorized by the commission to make arrangements as soon as possible for the extension of water service to the plant.

The project will also provide sorely needed fire protection for that area of the city.

A request for extension of water service or a pumping station near their new garage and maintenance department was received from the Stang Tank Line and the city manager was authorized to investigate the matter of constructing a pumping station.

A communication was received from Archie Belanger, city commission candidate, asking that the commission change Section 33 of the city charter which provides that "No elective officers shall hold any office or employment except that to which he is elected, compensation for which is paid out of city money," but City Attorney G. W. Jackson ruled that it was not within the powers of the commission to make such a change. Charter changes must be made by popular referendum, the city attorney ruled.

Application of Charles DuRoy for permission to erect a modern garage and service station at the southwest corner of Montana and Ninth street was approved. Plans for the structure are now being prepared by a Marquette architect.

Scout Meeting At Manistique Today

A regular monthly meeting of Red Bank District, Boy Scouts of America, is to be held tonight at Manistique. The session will be held at Denny's restaurant at 7 o'clock. All district members are expected to be present.

Burning Permits
Are Required At Present Time

Burning permits are necessary for farmers and other rural residents who wish to burn brush, stumps, trash or other material. Joseph Heiman, county agricultural agent advises.

The date when such permits are needed varies with the location and season, but the law says that "when there is no snow on the ground." The fact that snow has disappeared early in this area this year indicates a greater fire hazard than usual, and without snowfall or regular rains, the extreme hazard will continue until the woods are green.

In periods of extreme fire hazard, permits to burn are not given. Accurate records of temperature, rainfall, pressure, and humidity give information that show forestry and conservation experts when those times occur. When fire hazards are not high, burning permits are freely given by representatives of the department of conservation and of the forest service within or near national forests. When burning permits are issued, local towermen are notified of the location so that they need not send men to put out the fire when smoke is seen in such a location.

The cooperation of farmers and other rural residents in obtaining burning permits is seen by the fact that in recent years cases of forest fires started by persons without permits have been few. Conservation people point out that prevention of fires protects rural residents' own property as well as saves the forests.

In Schoolcraft county, burning permits may be obtained from the following: Tom Mellon, Manistique, and Ernest Derwin, Seney, conservation officers; and W. G. Wilson, forest ranger, office in Manistique.

Fined For Wearing
Discharge Button
Without Authority

Charged with wearing a World War II discharge button without being authorized to do so, William Winston was arraigned before Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Wednesday morning and entered a plea of not guilty. He waived trial by jury and was tried by the court, found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25 and $5 costs.

Winston claimed that he obtained the button by applying for it in good faith on the strength of the fact that he had been given a physical examination preliminary to induction into the armed service, but had been rejected. The court ruled that inasmuch as he had not been sworn into service he had not served in the armed service. The fine and costs were paid.

Firm Locates Here To Manufacture Novelties

The Ryan Manufacturing Co., headed by George Ryan of Rockford, Ill., will establish a plant in Gladstone for the manufacture of novelties and commodities, it was announced yesterday by Mr. Ryan. Negotiations for temporary use of the Fourth Ward school building by the firm have been made and some of the equipment to be used is being shipped immediately to Gladstone.

When under production, and this is expected within 30 days, about 20 persons, 15 men and five women, will be employed, Mr. Ryan estimated.

Wood and plastic will be used by the company in the manufacture of its products. The company has a tie up with a national sales organization which provides a ready outlet for its products.

First scheduled to be produced will be plaques superimposed on two plastic anchors with each plaque bearing a hand colored official navy picture of some one of our fighting ships.

Later the plant will probably manufacture some household appliances such as ironing boards and clothes pins.

Use of the school building is temporary for Ryan plans erection of a new building here as soon as conditions are right.

BIG GRASS FIRE
SWEEPS BLUFFFifty Men Used In Fight
To Bring Blaze
Under Control

Approximately 50 men were needed yesterday afternoon to bring under control a grass fire which swept over 40 acres on the bluff north of Highway 35. The Gladstone fire department was called to the scene and a Michigan Conservation Department fire truck and crew also was rushed to the area.

The fire apparently started near the city dump and burned towards the highway and eastward toward the bluff, then traveling northward.

PRAISE OLSSON
FOR SERVICESLetter Of Commendation
Sent To Retiring
Commissioner

This week's commission meeting was the last regular session of the year and at it August Olsson, retiring commissioner, made his last appearance as a member of the governing body.

While it was the last meeting of the year, the commission will convene April 4 for purposes of canvassing the vote cast in the annual election on Monday.

Personal regrets were expressed by other members of the commission and a resolution ordering a letter of commendation be sent Commissioner Olsson was adopted.

The body of the letter sent to Olsson follows:

"It is with sincere regret that we see you leave the City Commission where you have served so conscientiously and capably.

"Careful consideration was always given to your suggestions and proposals because we knew you conscientiously believed them to be for the betterment and welfare of our city.

"As we look back at commission meetings, we remember your vote of approval for many things that have been for the betterment of the city and its employees."

HOMER IN 7TH BEATS DETROIT

Cincinnati Reds Catcher Brings In Two Runs To Nip Tigers, 4-3

Lakeland, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Catcher Ray Lammano hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning today to give the Cincinnati Reds a 4 to 3 triumph over the Champion Detroit Tigers. Each team collected seven hits.

The Reds took an early two-run lead in the third inning when Pitcher Frank Dasso singled, Outfielder Myron (Mike) McCormick walked and Dasso came home on a double by Leftfielder Dain Clay. Lonnie Frey flied out, scoring McCormick.

Detroit moved ahead in the fifth with three runs on two hits. Eddie Lake singled and Roger Cramer walked. Outfielder Dick Wakefield tripled over McCormick's head, scoring Lake and Cramer. Roy Cullenbine flied out, Wakefield scoring.

With one out in the seventh, Eddie Shokes walked and Lammano followed with his game-winning homer over the left field wall. Cincinnati (N)—

PRO BASKETBALL TOURNEY
At Chicago: (First round): Oshkosh (Wis.) All Stars 60; Detroit Mansfields 32.

Lacrosse is one of the collegiate sports that continued throughout the war.

City Basketball Tourney Planned Here Next Week

Five teams will participate in the city basketball tournament that will open Tuesday, April 2, at the junior high school gymnasium.

Mike's Bar and Marble Arms will play at 8:30 Tuesday night. Tom Swift's will meet Hermansville Silver Foxes in a non-tournament game at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

The winner of Mike's Bar and Marble Arms game will play Tom Swift's in one semi-final game Wednesday at 8:30, while Bark River and Oberg's will play the other semi-final game Wednesday at 7:30. The championship game will be played Thursday, April 4, at 8:30 o'clock.

Oshkosh All-Stars Win First Round In Cage Title Battle

Chicago, March 27 (AP)—The Oshkosh, Wis., All-Stars breezed to a 60-32 triumph over the Detroit Mansfields in the first round of the World's Professional basketball tournament at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Led by Forward Bob Carpenter, leading scorer of the National Basketball League, and Center Gene Englund with 12 and 11 points respectively, the Oshkosh team jumped into a 12-2 lead in the first five minutes and loafed to an easy victory.

The Detroit quintet had little chance after its center, Sam Lieberman, who paced the losers with eight points, was chased on personal at the start of the second half.

Eleventh Annual Ping-Pong Tourney Here April 11-12

The 11th annual city wide ping-pong tournament, sponsored by the Escanaba Lions club will be held Thursday and Friday nights, April 11 and 12. The tourney will be played off in the Escanaba junior high school gym.

Registrations for the events will be taken at the gym and are open to anyone desiring to participate. Trophies and medals will be awarded all first, second and third place winners in each class. The awards will be made after the events on April 12.

Events will be played in men's singles, girls singles, intermediate boys singles, intermediate girls singles and junior boys and junior girls singles, mens doubles, girls doubles and mixed doubles.

Winners in the 1944 contests were:

Mens singles: John Jaranowski (US coast guard). Girls singles, Sally Stack; Intermediate boys singles, Jack Schils, junior boys singles, Robert Hickenpahl, mens doubles, G. Richards and W. Colby; girls doubles G. Lee and H. Pearson; mixed doubles J. Finn and S. Baker.

Boston's Pennant Hopes To Hinge On 3 Pitching Stars

Sarasota, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Fenway Park could fly its first American league pennant since 1918 this fall if Manager Joe Cronin gets the pitching he expects from Tex Hughson, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris.

The skipper looks for big things from Hughson, an 18-game winner in 1944, Ferriss, who won 21 in his freshman year and Harris, a rookie left-hander who hung up a phenomenal record in the Panama Canal Zone league while in service.

With Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky and Hal Wagner back from the wars to give the batting order more zing, pitching looms as the most important factor in figuring Boston's pennant chances.

First base may be a little bit shaky and Cronin is undecided on a regular third sacker, but the order backs enough wallop to overcome such difficulties if the pitchers hold up their end.

In pre-war days the Red Sox had everything on paper, but couldn't do better than second place because of their hurling weakness.

Rookies Larry Powell and Mel Deutsch, two ex-servicemen, have shown promise and there are such holdovers as Emmett O'Neill, Pinky Woods and Randy Hefflin from the 1945 corps and Charley Wagner of pre-war vintage.

Erosion carries off an estimated three billion tons of top soil in the United States annually.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Softball leaders of the Upper Peninsula made an excellent start here Sunday in establishing the framework for the Upper Peninsula Softball association. A tentative constitution was drafted and arrangements made for a second meeting here April 7 at which time the association will be formally organized. All softball city associations in the peninsula will be invited to send delegations to the meeting on April 7.

Menominee was unintentionally omitted from the names of cities represented at the initial meeting here last Sunday, but the state-line city was well represented. Commissioner Fred Klaus of Menominee headed the delegation from that city and spoke out emphatically in favor of the proposed Upper Peninsula organization. All delegates at the meeting were enthusiastic about softball prospects for the coming season and expected the largest number of teams in their communities since prewar days.

There will be no loading up for peninsula tournaments if the plan recommended here Sunday is adopted in the organization of the Upper Peninsula Softball association. All member teams will be required to submit their lineups to the association and after July 15, no additions or revisions will be accepted. Thus the lineups reported as of July 15 will be eligibility list for tournament competition. This provision will effectively eliminate loading up for the tournaments.

The Escanaba Softball association will hold its first meeting of the season tonight with team managers, captains and sponsors to plan for the year's activities. Important business will be discussed at this meeting, including an agreement on the rules to be in effect for local play. The Amateur Softball association revised its rules last fall to provide for only nine players on a team instead of ten, eliminating the roving fielder. Bases also were shortened five feet to give the team at bat a better break. This was done because pitchers had all the better of it under the old rules. The local association will have to decide whether it will follow these rules changes.

Another proposal that will be aired at tonight's meeting concerns an attempt at better distribution of pitching strength in the local leagues. To attain better team balance in the leagues, it is hoped to spread the leading pitchers. Just how this will be accomplished undoubtedly will be a subject for interesting discussion tonight.

The association leaders are presenting a noble idea and will leave it up to the team leaders for final decision.

Centerfielder Bob Ludwig's double and two singled paced the Spartan attack while Leftfielder Grady Scott duplicated the performance for Duke. The victory was Michigan State's first over a Duke team in a series now five games old.

The Spartans counted in the 10th on Shortstop Marty Hansen's double to open the inning, a pair of infield errors and an infield out.

Centerfielder Bob Ludwig's double and two singled paced the Spartan attack while Leftfielder Grady Scott duplicated the performance for Duke. The victory was Michigan State's first over a Duke team in a series now five games old.

Erickson Returns To Iron Mountain Sports Desk Job

Iron Mountain—Buck Erickson, sports editor of the Iron Mountain News before he entered the Army three years ago, will resume that position next Monday when he returns to his desk in The News' editorial department.

Erickson, who entered the Army as a private, was honorably discharged at Camp Grant, Ill., last Thursday after rising to the rank of master sergeant. During his term of service he held several responsible positions as an Army journalist and was one of the editors of the prize-winning post newspaper published at Camp Ellis, Ill.

When he left The News, Erickson was acting president of the Northern Wisconsin-Michigan Baseball league and a leader in several other district athletic organizations. He said he plans to call a reorganization meeting of the N. W.-M. league within a few days and will move to revive other activities which suspended operations during the war.

"Rented the first day" said Smith.

WIN BENEFIT APPEAL

Houghton—The Appeal Board of the Michigan Unemployment Commission, in a decision dated March 21, affirmed that the Copper Range employees are entitled to their unemployment benefits with disqualifications.

The 539 employees, covered by this decision, most of whom have been unemployed since the Copper Range mines closed on Sept. 20, 1945, have not received their unemployment benefits because of two appeals made by the Copper Range company.

RESCUES PHOTOGRAPHER

Ironwood—Harold J. Roche, son of Mrs. Hildur Roche of the Ironwood Carnegie library staff, recently rescued a photographer for the Madison Capital-Times from a sinking ice floe in Lake Monona, at Madison.

The photographer, James Roy Miller, had gone out on the ice to try to get some pictures of a dog that had been reported stranded on the ice for three days. Miller was 500 feet from shore when he started to sink.

Roche, a reporter for the Capital-Times, ran to a nearby home and borrowed a canoe, which he slid along the ice by pushing with one foot over the side, as he had no paddle. When 300 feet from Miller, the ice started breaking away and Roche used his hands to paddle the craft. When he reached Miller the photographer was in water up to his neck.

BOXING CARD IS SHAPING UP

Two Rematches Planned For Fight Program At Manistique

Matches for the Manistique boxing program to be held Monday, April 8, at the Manistique junior high school gymnasium are now being arranged and it is probable that most of the card will be arranged within the next few days.

The program will feature amateur boxers from Escanaba and Manistique. Two rematches of bouts in the Golden Gloves tournament are promised. Pinky Weber, Manistique middleweight, who lost a narrow decision to Ray Sabuco, Escanaba, in the Golden Gloves tournament has asked for another match with the Escanaba lad who won the middleweight novice championship and Sabuco has obliged.

Another rematch will bring Howard Bourdeau, of Escanaba, against Bob Barnes, Manistique heavyweight. Barnes scored a knockout over Bourdeau in the Escanaba tournament, but Bourdeau is convinced that it was all a mistake and has asked for a rematch. Barnes is considerable heavier than Bourdeau but both are heavyweights. The match promises to be one of the highlights of the Manistique card.

A number of other Escanaba lads will participate in the program and pairings in these matches will be announced in the next few days.

All entrants in the show will receive a top quality pair of boxing trunks. This includes winners and losers alike.

Jim Hubbard, shiftless 500 heavy-weight who won the 147-pound open division title in the Golden Gloves tournament, may appear in action at Manistique if a suitable match can be arranged.

Tickets for the reserved seat section are now on sale at Manistique and Escanaba. Local fight fans can obtain tickets in the Escanaba reserved section at Gust Aspi's.

HEALTH DIRECTOR NAMED

Iron River—Dr. R. G. Wetterstrom, 32, of Boise, Idaho, yesterday was offered the directorship of the Iron county health department at a special meeting of the county board's health committee. The position carries a salary of $6,000.

Dr. Wetterstrom, who has been with the U. S. Public Health Service in the mountain states for the past four years, will return to Idaho and consult his wife before advising the county of his decision.

APPOINTED FORESTER

Iron River—Roy Skog, a nephew of Mrs. Hilleg Swanson and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, visited in Iron River last week before leaving for Marquette to become the first state extension forester located in this region.

Recently discharged from the navy after 3½ years of service, Skog was a Michigan State college assistant extension forester at East Lansing.

In his new capacity, Skog will work with farmers, small wood land owners and small sawmill operators. He will be an advisor on public school forests for grade and high schools. He will offer suggestions on tree planting, selective cutting and marketing of forest products.

Hunting And Fishing

By Sid Gordon

That Terrible Grind
Most persons look forward to April most cheerfully but I worry about my friends, the trout, the last part of March and the first week in April. The time when the ice is moving out of our streams is a dreadful time for all stream fish.

For several years I made it a point to go to the streams during the spring breakup. I had a long pole, a hoe handle, to which was attached a round steel hoop with a good net fastened to it. Every few minutes I would dip the net in the stream and examine its catch.

Great chunks of ice would be rushing down stream, piling up and, in the low spots, skidding along the ground above the stream bank. Just one experience of being swept into the river, but hanging on to a sapling, taught me to do my sampling from a high bank.

Examining each catch, it was amazing to see the results. The ice tore along, now on the bottom, now forced up by other cakes and the stream pressure. There were bits of crawfish, parts of minnows and literally thousands of legs, heads and crushed bodies of underwater nymphs and larvae.

Take a few dips with a net during these floods and breakups this season. Dump the contents into a white enameled plate and look at it with a 10 power lens or use your ordinary eyesight and study it a little after each dip.

What look like bits of wood or clay or just black mud will turn out to be whole animals or tiny parts of them. Multiply the small part of the water you have dipped by millions of times and you then wonder how there is anything left in the stream for the trout, or bass, to feed upon.

But you won't stop there, you'll use your imagination just as I do. You'll think of the fish which must avoid that terrible, constant grinding for several days each year, for the ice starts at the headwaters and comes all the way down.

The fish must seek the very deepest pools at this time but you will see those great cakes of ice come down and dip, through pressure of other cakes, surely down to the bottom. In all my dippings, season after season, I have not seen over 10 crushed legal fish but I have seen hundreds of crushed and ground up minnows.

I often wonder if the terrible grind is not responsible for the poor summer fishing after a severe spring breakup. It must be that some streams, regardless of the fact my water tests showed me should carry hundreds of good fish, were poor producers on account of the March or April ice push.

Sizzling Sam Sneed Favored To Capture Charlotte Tourney

Charlotte, N. C., March 27 (AP)—The hottest thing in golf right now, Sam Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., the year's third ranking money winner, is favored to reap his third straight harvest of the fast-fading winter tour which opens a four-day Charlotte open stand tomorrow.

Winner of the Greensboro and Jacksonville opens in last two starts in which he was 34 strokes under par for 144 holes, Sneed is at his top form.

Last year the Virginian dropped a marathon hole by Byron Nelson, who tied him on the last day and then went two 18-hole playoffs before gaining the decision. Nelson, along with Ben Hogan, is not competing this time, the pair having elected to rest until next week's Augusta Masters', final event on the winter calendar.

Principal contention is expected from Lloyd Mangrum, of Los Angeles; Jimmy Demaret, of Houston, Tex.; Clayton Heafner, of Charlotte, and 1944 winner Dutch Harrison, of Little Rock, Ark., all ex-servicemen, as is Sneed.

Batting Eye Poor, Greenberg Decides He'll Take A Rest

Lakeland, Fla., March 27 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tigers' first baseman, is taking a few days off in the hopes the rest will sharpen up his batting eye.

The former Army captain hasn't been pounding the ball in his usual fashion during the spring exhibition game schedule. Monday, he came to bat in the seventh inning of the Buffalo game, with the bases loaded and two out. He went down on strikes without taking his bat off his shoulder and shortly after that asked Manager Steve O'Neill for the rest.

Bowling Tourney Opens On April 5

The Escanaba bowling association city tournament will be held here April 5 to April 30. It was announced yesterday. Entries for the event will close Wednesday, April 3.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pvt. Eugene Gardner, who passed away two years ago today, March 28, 1944.

A slip of yellow paper,
An envelope edged in black,
Three words "War department regrets"
Meant you would never come back.
Oh, Eugene, how we miss you,
Miss you more each day;
If we could just be near you,
To linger at your grave,
Some day time heals an aching heart,
But no, it is not true,
For two long years have passed
And our hearts still ache for you.

Card of Thanks

I sincerely thank my friends for the wonderful gift and the farewell party that was given in my honor. I will always remember the kindness of my friends in the vicinity of 1810 First Ave. S.

AGED ESCANABA RESIDENT DIES

John Martinson, 74, Is Stricken Yesterday By Heart Attack

John Martinson, 74, of 613 North 16th street, a resident of Escanaba for 43 years, died at 1:45 p. m. yesterday of a heart ailment from which he had suffered for the past two years.

Employed as a lumber scaler for the I Stephenson company at Wells during the period of his residence in this community, Mr. Martinson was stricken while at work. During the period of his illness he has been occasionally employed.

Born Jan. 14, 1872, at Wasa, Finland, Mr. Martinson came to Ford River with his bride in 1891. They resided there for 12 years and then moved to Escanaba. The couple celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary March 11 of this year.

Mr. Martinson was a member of Bethany Lutheran church, and of the Order of Runeberg.

Surviving besides the widow are a daughter, Mrs. Earl Foster of Gladstone, one son, William, of Detroit, a granddaughter, Bonnie Foster, and one brother in Finland.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home in preparation for burial. Funeral services are expected to be held Saturday afternoon, although final arrangements will not be completed until today.

No, They're Not New: City Trucks Just Newly Painted

No, the city hasn't bought any new trucks. But Escanaba's public works department this season decided to include some painting of the city's motor equipment in its spring housecleaning, now that it again has the services of Peter Breclaw, 220 N. 11th street, first city employee to go into the armed forces, the department chief, Joe Holmes, reported yesterday.

Breclaw went into the army on March 7, 1941 after being in the city's employ several years, and returned to his duties in the public works department in January of this year after some 53 months of service—40 of them in the Southwest Pacific—in the field artillery.

Twelve city trucks have already been painted by Breclaw, Wilfred Roberts and John DeChantel and Holmes said some trailers and other equipment will be painted if the work can be done without interfering with other necessary spring clean-up jobs. However, the department is losing the services of Breclaw, who received some training in electrical work during his army career and who is being transferred to the city's electrical department April 1.

Including cars, trucks and trailers the city has 37 pieces of motor equipment in addition to four concrete and tarmac mixers, a roller, five tractors, three pumps, a dredge (sandsucker), grader and snowplow. There are several other miscellaneous pieces.

Red Cross Receives $28.80 Gift From Cribbage Players

A gift of $28.80 was contributed to the Red Cross by the Rotary-Kiwanis cribbage tournament teams following the close of the last match of the six game series held last night at the recreation center.

The final match of the series was a walk away for the Rotary club players over their Kiwanis opponents with the Rotarians taking the series by a total of 21 games.

Going into last night's match the Rotary club was leading by 3 games and the six Rotary teams in last night play won at every table to score the greatest number of games won in one night during the entire six game series.

The losing team will entertain the winners at a dinner to be announced later.

Fred Bode was captain of the Rotary team and John La Motte for the Kiwanis.

West Point was founded in 1802.

Obituary

LAWRENCE MOREAU

The body of Lawrence Moreau, who was killed last Saturday by a car, will arrive from Los Angeles on Saturday night, accompanied by Hubert Moreau, brother of the deceased. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TORVAL E. STROM

Funeral services for Torval E. Strom were held yesterday afternoon at the Alto funeral home at two o'clock.

Following the Christian Science service, Rev. James G. Ward officiated at the Elks service, and A. E. Nelson conducted the Masonic rites. At the close of the services, Britton Hall sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom.

Knights Templar guards of honor were Harry Compher, Harold Reade, Carl Sawyer, Ralph Layman, A. N. Wilson, H. W. Moore and Elmer Norman.

Pallbearers were Bruce Brackett, James E. Frost, L. J. Jacobs, William E. Miron, O. J. Thorsen and Sgt. Willard Wixom. Burial was in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

The honorary escort was composed of members of the Knights Templars, Masonic Blue Lodge, Delta County Bar Association, University of Michigan Alumni club, Delta county Infantry Paralysis chapter, and the Elks Lodge.

Out of town people who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Strom of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strom, Mrs. Emma Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. Miron Paulson, all of Milwaukee; Mrs. Emma Johnson, Neenah, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wheaton of Green Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Eligo Wheaton, Mrs. P. A. Hanson and Mrs. Flora Meyer of Marinette; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Amundsen, Herman Sorenson, Arnold Sorenson, and C. L. Hanson of Menominee.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheaton and Mrs. Grace Jerguson of Marquette; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corrier of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlson, Mrs. Hans Paulson, Mrs. John Nelson, and Fredrick Paulson of Crystal Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Nygaard of Hermansville; Mr. and Mrs. Jens Wheaton, Robert and Jens Wheaton, Jr., of Gladstone.

Attorneys from out of town who attended the services were Circuit Judge Frank A. Bell, Negaunee; Probate Judge Carrol C. Rushton of Marquette; Joseph J. Herbert of Manistique; and R. W. Nebel of Munising.
